

-- BADEAU --

The family groups represented in this collection may not be complete, because information was entered bit by bit as I found it or happened upon it; I have not done any systematic research on these families. Because they do not compose whole family genealogies, these listings are arranged differently from most genealogical records or histories. Each listing is a family group, and is arranged and filed alphabetically under the name of the head of the family.

Names are generally in alphabetical order (disregarding spelling variations and middle names), then in approx. chronological order. The first sorting is by surname (mixing together any and all spelling variations), then by given name, then by approximate birthdate (when known) in approximate chronological order. For easier reference, surnames in headings are grouped together under the most common spelling usage that evolved in this geographical location, regardless of individualistic spellings in the records themselves. Cross references are used in most cases where surname spellings substantially vary.

Within the quoted records, the individual spellings have been (mostly) retained because they sometimes provide clues (although in general—but with exceptions—they seem to largely reflect the record keeper's particular orthography and not always, at this early period, any special family preference). Those interested can see the variety and evolvement of a particular name's spelling and the interesting and sometimes amusing attempts at phonetic reproduction. Keep in mind that before names and spellings were standardized, records reflected the individualistic whim of the particular recorder (often two different spellings of the same name within the same document). In addition, all records were handwritten, and sometimes deciphering a handwritten name in early records can be quite challenging! So expect to search under all possibilities of spelling (for both surnames and given names).

Given names are grouped together without regard for middle initials or middle names. Because middle names and/or initials are sometimes used, sometimes not used in various records, it seemed simplest to arrange entries as if the middle names or initials did not exist. Usually all variations of a given name are grouped together as though spelled one way: Jan, Johannes, John, etc. are all grouped as one (but also look under the other forms).

Sources and references are included with each "family" grouping, but may or may not include sources that are cited (or are obvious, such as baptismal records, etc.) within the narrative or listing itself.

As with any compiled genealogical record, researchers should regard this information as leads and clues, and should verify all data with independent research.

I welcome, and would be grateful for, any additions or corrections, especially with source citations.

Badeau, Adam (General)

Adam Badeau
son of Nicholas William Badeau & Jane

b. 29 Dec 1831 New York City, NY

d. 19 March 1895 Ridgewood, Bergen Co., NJ

buried Old Dutch Burial Ground of Sleepy Hollow, Tarrytown, NY

General Adam Badeau was raised in Beekmantown, Westchester Co., NY—that part of Sleepy Hollow which today forms the inner village. He was the author of a "History of General Grant" and numerous newspaper and magazine articles.

General Adam Badeau was the brother of Allendale [Bergen Co., NJ] resident Dr. Charles W. Badeau. He vacationed for the summer at Allendale, Bergen Co., NJ in 1892 and probably the summer of 1893. He probably leased the Cable home on East Allendale Avenue.

He was made captain and aide-de-camp of U.S. Volunteers in April 1862 and afterward was appointed on the staff of General Sherman. He was severely wounded at Port Hudson. He joined General Grant in January 1864 as his military secretary, with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, and was made brevet brigadier-general in the U.S. army.

Adam Badeau was military secretary to General (later President of the U.S.) Ulysses Grant from 1864 to 1866. President Grant later appointed him consul general at London.

They lived at 46 Maple Street, Allendale, Bergen Co., NJ, at what was later the property of the Church of the Guardian Angel R.C. Church (perhaps as early as 1876 and certainly by 1886) and later at 232 Franklin Turnpike (by 1887). In June 1901 they moved to Passaic, NJ, where they lived in the summer, spending winters in their Florida home.

Charles Wingate Badeau graduated from New York University Medical College, New York: Univ. of City of New York Med. Dept. and was licensed in NJ in 1880.⁴

Dr. Badeau, a medical doctor, was living and practicing medicine in Allendale by 1876. He was appointed Board of Health Commissioner of Allendale in February 1896. He was a Trustee of the Orvil Co-operative Building and Loan Association, elected 13 April 1889. His hobby was photography.

They had no children.

Living with them in 1900 was Catherine Christopher, b. Feb 1866 NJ, a housekeeper.

The house at 46 Maple Street was shown as Lot #31, labelled "Dr. Bedeau" on the "Map of the property of John L. Yeomans" surveyed March 1886 and filed 5 May 1886.

About April-May 1879 A. Ackerman conveyed one acre at Allendale for $3,000 to Louise E. Badeau.
