

-- BARCALO, BERKELOW, ETC. --

The family groups represented in this collection may not be complete, because information was entered bit by bit as I found it or happened upon it; I have not done any systematic research on these families. Because they do not compose whole family genealogies, these listings are arranged differently from most genealogical records or histories. Each listing is a family group, and is arranged and filed alphabetically under the name of the head of the family.

Names are generally in alphabetical order (disregarding spelling variations and middle names), then in approx. chronological order. The first sorting is by surname (mixing together any and all spelling variations), then by given name, then by approximate birthdate (when known) in approximate chronological order. For easier reference, surnames in headings are grouped together under the most common spelling usage that evolved in this geographical location, regardless of individualistic spellings in the records themselves. Cross references are used in most cases where surname spellings substantially vary.

Within the quoted records, the individual spellings have been (mostly) retained because they sometimes provide clues (although in general—but with exceptions—they seem to largely reflect the record keeper's particular orthography and not always, at this early period, any special family preference). Those interested can see the variety and evolvement of a particular name's spelling and the interesting and sometimes amusing attempts at phonetic reproduction. Keep in mind that before names and spellings were standardized, records reflected the individualistic whim of the particular recorder (often two different spellings of the same name within the same document). In addition, all records were handwritten, and sometimes deciphering a handwritten name in early records can be quite challenging! So expect to search under all possibilities of spelling (for both surnames and given names).

Given names are grouped together without regard for middle initials or middle names. Because middle names and/or initials are sometimes used, sometimes not used in various records, it seemed simplest to arrange entries as if the middle names or initials did not exist. Usually all variations of a given name are grouped together as though spelled one way: Jan, Johannes, John, etc. are all grouped as one (but also look under the other forms).

Sources and references are included with each "family" grouping, but may or may not include sources that are cited (or are obvious, such as baptismal records, etc.) within the narrative or listing itself.

As with any compiled genealogical record, researchers should regard this information as leads and clues, and should verify all data with independent research.

I welcome, and would be grateful for, any additions or corrections, especially with source citations.

Barkelo

Two brothers from the small town called "Borculo" in the Gelderland province of the Netherlands came to New Netherland. The first to come was Willem Jans, who made a trip back home. Harmen Jans "van Borckeloo", his wife, and two children came along with Harmen's brother, Willem, on his trip back to New Netherland aboard the ship "De Trouw" (The Faith), leaving the Netherlands on 24 March 1662.

An excellent article by Hendrick O. Slok entitled "Dutch Ancestry of the Van Barkello Family" appeared in the October 1984 issue of the New York Genealogical & Biographical Record, volume 115, number 4, pages 193-198. Additional comments by Henry Macy, Jr. appeared in the October 1995 issue, volume 126, pages 243-243. The "van Barkellos" actually came from the village of Geesteren near Barculo in Gelderland. In the church books there are recorded the baptisms of the two oldest children of Harmen and Willemke. -- Dorothy Koenig, Oct 2000 <dkoenig@library.berkeley.edu>

In his will, he wrote: ...I, Abraham Barckalow, being weak in Body. My Burial to be without Pomp or State. I leave to my wife Catharine full possession of the house where I dwell, and the furniture, and all my lands and tenements that lie about it, during her widowhood. I also leave her a negro wench. I leave to my son Cornelius a negro boy, and my silver hilted sword and pistols. I leave to my son Garrett "the choice of two guns out of the three," and a negro man, and when the negro is sold, if he does not fetch as much as the others, it is to be made up to him. I leave to my daughter Catharine a young negro wench. All the rest of my lands and wordly estate I leave to my three children. I make my wife, and Abraham Spicer, executors. Dated August 27, 1765. Witnesses, Nathaniel Britton, Andrew Coulter, Peter De Groat. Van Borckeloo, Wilhem Hermensen (Willem Hermensen Barkalo)

Wilhem Hermensen Van Borckeloo m. 5 April 1697 son of Harmen Janse [Van Barkelo] & Amersfoort, L.I., NY Willempje Eldringh Warnaers (banns: 7 March 1697
Bergen Ref Ch; rec'd cert. 1 April)

Maria Corteljou
dau. of Jacques Cortelyou &
Neeltje Van Duyn
b. about 1669
bp.

In the Bergen Ref Ch record of their marriage intentions, they were: Wilhem Hermensen Van Borckeloo, Y.M. from N. Utrecht, living at Constapels Hoeck, and Maria Cordeljou, Y.D. from N. Utrecht, living there.

He took the oath of allegiance in Flatlands in 1687, appears to have resided in Gravesend about 1696 and 1698, and afterwards removed to New Utrecht on the property his wife inherited from her father, on the census of which town he appears in 1698, and where he was assessed in 1706 for 90 acres.
