

-- BENJAMIN --

The family groups represented in this collection may not be complete, because information was entered bit by bit as I found it or happened upon it; I have not done any systematic research on these families. Because they do not compose whole family genealogies, these listings are arranged differently from most genealogical records or histories. Each listing is a family group, and is arranged and filed alphabetically under the name of the head of the family.

Names are generally in alphabetical order (disregarding spelling variations and middle names), then in approx. chronological order. The first sorting is by surname (mixing together any and all spelling variations), then by given name, then by approximate birthdate (when known) in approximate chronological order. For easier reference, surnames in headings are grouped together under the most common spelling usage that evolved in this geographical location, regardless of individualistic spellings in the records themselves. Cross references are used in most cases where surname spellings substantially vary.

Within the quoted records, the individual spellings have been (mostly) retained because they sometimes provide clues (although in general—but with exceptions—they seem to largely reflect the record keeper's particular orthography and not always, at this early period, any special family preference). Those interested can see the variety and evolvement of a particular name's spelling and the interesting and sometimes amusing attempts at phonetic reproduction. Keep in mind that before names and spellings were standardized, records reflected the individualistic whim of the particular recorder (often two different spellings of the same name within the same document). In addition, all records were handwritten, and sometimes deciphering a handwritten name in early records can be quite challenging! So expect to search under all possibilities of spelling (for both surnames and given names).

Given names are grouped together without regard for middle initials or middle names. Because middle names and/or initials are sometimes used, sometimes not used in various records, it seemed simplest to arrange entries as if the middle names or initials did not exist. Usually all variations of a given name are grouped together as though spelled one way: Jan, Johannes, John, etc. are all grouped as one (but also look under the other forms).

Sources and references are included with each "family" grouping, but may or may not include sources that are cited (or are obvious, such as baptismal records, etc.) within the narrative or listing itself.

As with any compiled genealogical record, researchers should regard this information as leads and clues, and should verify all data with independent research.

I welcome, and would be grateful for, any additions or corrections, especially with source citations.

David Benjamin came to Orange County about 1730.

His will is on file in Orange County, N.Y. It was dated October 9, 1734 and proved June 16, 1738 and divided his property among David Jr., Silas and Jonathan. Jonathan sold all or part of his share after his father's death in 1738. David Benjamin Sr. bought this land from Ebenezer Holley of Goshen, N.Y. David Sr. granted one half of his property in the southeast division of Goshen Township to his oldest son David Jr., except ten acres given to his son Silas and the other half to his son Jonathan.

son of

m. 16 Nov 1826
Paterson, NJ, by Rev.
Samuel Fisher¹

Elizabeth Willis (Eliza)
dau. of Abraham Willis &
Catrina Post

Both were of Paterson at the time of their marriage.

This is likely the same John Benjamin who is listed in Rev. Samuel Fisher's Census of Paterson, 1827; living on Congress St.; Presbyterian; 1 male, 1 female.

Elizabeth Willis's father, Abraham Willis, was a well-educated man and was a civil engineer and surveyor. He was employed by the Society for Establishing Useful Manufactures (SUM) when Paterson was laid out in 1792, and continued in their service until his death. He lived in Paterson in a small house on the north side of Willis Street (which was named after him), next west of the Willis Street Baptist Church.
