

-- CARPENTER --

The family groups represented in this collection may not be complete, because information was entered bit by bit as I found it or happened upon it; I have not done any systematic research on these families. Because they do not compose whole family genealogies, these listings are arranged differently from most genealogical records or histories. Each listing is a family group, and is arranged and filed alphabetically under the name of the head of the family.

Names are generally in alphabetical order (disregarding spelling variations and middle names), then in approx. chronological order. The first sorting is by surname (mixing together any and all spelling variations), then by given name, then by approximate birthdate (when known) in approximate chronological order. For easier reference, surnames in headings are grouped together under the most common spelling usage that evolved in this geographical location, regardless of individualistic spellings in the records themselves. Cross references are used in most cases where surname spellings substantially vary.

Within the quoted records, the individual spellings have been (mostly) retained because they sometimes provide clues (although in general—but with exceptions—they seem to largely reflect the record keeper's particular orthography and not always, at this early period, any special family preference). Those interested can see the variety and evolution of a particular name's spelling and the interesting and sometimes amusing attempts at phonetic reproduction. Keep in mind that before names and spellings were standardized, records reflected the individualistic whim of the particular recorder (often two different spellings of the same name within the same document). In addition, all records were handwritten, and sometimes deciphering a handwritten name in early records can be quite challenging! So expect to search under all possibilities of spelling (for both surnames and given names).

Given names are grouped together without regard for middle initials or middle names. Because middle names and/or initials are sometimes used, sometimes not used in various records, it seemed simplest to arrange entries as if the middle names or initials did not exist. Usually all variations of a given name are grouped together as though spelled one way: Jan, Johannes, John, etc. are all grouped as one (but also look under the other forms).

Sources and references are included with each "family" grouping, but may or may not include sources that are cited (or are obvious, such as baptismal records, etc.) within the narrative or listing itself.

As with any compiled genealogical record, researchers should regard this information as leads and clues, and should verify all data with independent research.

I welcome, and would be grateful for, any additions or corrections, especially with source citations.

They lived at Duck Pond, on the southerly side of the highway leading from Musketa Cove to Oyster Bay, on a three-acre plot given to Deborah Coles by her father, Nathan.

In his will, he wrote: ...This 12 day of May, 1749. I, Benjamin Carpenter, of Ducks Pond, so called, in the Township of Oyster Bay, in Queens County, weaver, being very sick." All debts are to be paid. I leave to my wife Deborah the use of all household goods "for her to make use of for the necessary need of her and my beloved son, Coles Carpenter, until he is of age," and then to divide the same equally, "except one good bed and furniture for my son Coles." I leave to my wife and son all grain now growing. "I leave to my wife a cow, and the whole use of my lot of land which is called the Kitchen lot," so long as she lives and remains my widow. I leave to my daughter, Rachel Townsend, 5 shillings. All of my sheep and one of my jades [horses] are to be sold by my executors. All the rest of my real and personal estate to be in the care of my wife and son till he is of age, "and then he is to take it all himself." "My executors are to have the oversight of my land, to see that it is not abused by bad plowing, or one way or another, until my son is of age." I make Thomas Pearsall and Jacob Valentine, executors. Witnesses, Daniel Cock, Quaker, George Townsend, Silas Rushmore. Proved, January 5, 1769.
