

-- CONKLIN --

The family groups represented in this collection may not be complete, because information was entered bit by bit as I found it or happened upon it; I have not done any systematic research on these families. Because they do not compose whole family genealogies, these listings are arranged differently from most genealogical records or histories. Each listing is a family group, and is arranged and filed alphabetically under the name of the head of the family.

Names are generally in alphabetical order (disregarding spelling variations and middle names), then in approx. chronological order. The first sorting is by surname (mixing together any and all spelling variations), then by given name, then by approximate birthdate (when known) in approximate chronological order. For easier reference, surnames in headings are grouped together under the most common spelling usage that evolved in this geographical location, regardless of individualistic spellings in the records themselves. Cross references are used in most cases where surname spellings substantially vary.

Within the quoted records, the individual spellings have been (mostly) retained because they sometimes provide clues (although in general—but with exceptions—they seem to largely reflect the record keeper's particular orthography and not always, at this early period, any special family preference). Those interested can see the variety and evolution of a particular name's spelling and the interesting and sometimes amusing attempts at phonetic reproduction. Keep in mind that before names and spellings were standardized, records reflected the individualistic whim of the particular recorder (often two different spellings of the same name within the same document). In addition, all records were handwritten, and sometimes deciphering a handwritten name in early records can be quite challenging! So expect to search under all possibilities of spelling (for both surnames and given names).

Given names are grouped together without regard for middle initials or middle names. Because middle names and/or initials are sometimes used, sometimes not used in various records, it seemed simplest to arrange entries as if the middle names or initials did not exist. Usually all variations of a given name are grouped together as though spelled one way: Jan, Johannes, John, etc. are all grouped as one (but also look under the other forms).

Sources and references are included with each "family" grouping, but may or may not include sources that are cited (or are obvious, such as baptismal records, etc.) within the narrative or listing itself.

As with any compiled genealogical record, researchers should regard this information as leads and clues, and should verify all data with independent research.

I welcome, and would be grateful for, any additions or corrections, especially with source citations.

Focuses on "John of Flushing and Rye" the progenitor of the "Dutch Conklins" also known as the "Rockland/Sullivan/Orange County, NY/Pennsylvania Conklins". Some citations but confusing at first to use. Helps to keep in mind while using, that Joseph, Deliverance, Nicholas, etc. are sons of John of Flushing and that the rest is miscellaneous and some of it speculative. They settled on a farm in the Town of Clinton, (now the Town of Hyde Park) Dutchess County, N. Y. situated on the Creek Road, between Poughkeepsie and Union Corners (now East Park) about 1/2 mile south of the later place at present (1920) owned by Walter Gilbert.

Capt. Isaac Conklin took an active part in the American Revolution. On June 30, 1775, a Regiment was being raised in "Charlotte Precinct" which adjoined North East Precinct on the south and is of historical interest to North Eastern Dutchess County. Isaac Conklin's commission was issued Sept. 10, 1775, as Captain of the Middle District Company of Charlotte Precinct, under Col. John Frear. (Freer) Later, the Officers of this Regiment were David Sutherland, Co.; Roswell Hopkins, Lieut. Co.; Simeon Cook, 1st Maj.; Richard De Cantelon, 2nd Maj.; Joseph Carpenter, Adj.; Daniel Shepherd, Quarter-master; Matthias Burnet Miller, Surgeon; There were thirteen (13) companies in this regiment; Benj. De La Vergne, was Capt. of the 7th; Ebenezer Husted, Jr., was Capt., of the 9th; Isaac Conklin was Capt., of the 12th; and Peter Stoutenburgh, was Capt. of the 13th. Their Commissions were issued Oct. 17, 1775. Most of thisregiment was transferred to the 4th Regiment of Dutchess County Militia.

Isaac Conklin took an active part in organizing the "Stoutsburch Building Society" and building the Church, at Stoutenburgh Corners, (Hyde Park) which in 1814, changed its name to "The Reformed Dutch Church." It was built upon land owned by Capt. Luke Stoutenburgh, deceased. Thus for a short time the Village (little settlement at that time) of Hyde Park, was called Stoutenburgh and derived its name from this family. The first meeting of the Society was advertised and held Feb. 23, 1789, at "Stoutenburgh Corners," and on Dec. 21st of the same year Isaac Conklin was elected a member of the Board of Trustees, which also included John Stoutenburgh, Thomas Bamcker, Joshua Nelson, Jacob Schryver, and John Lee. Isaac was reelected a Trustee in 1793 and 1796.

According to the record of their marriage, Elizabeth Hickton was a spinster, of Watnall, parish Greasely. Jacob was a "glasemaker." The marriage bond was made by John Concklyne, of Nuthall, also a glassmaker

Charlotte L. Giltner in "John Concklin of Flushing, Long Island, and Rye, then Conn., now New York: A Tentative Compilation" (15 Jan 1990) wrote: "One writer did state he [John Concklin of Flushing and Rye] might have been related to, and possibly son of, Jacob Concklyne, of Awlsworth, Parish Nuthall. This compiler concurs with this. ... They [John and Ananias] probably were brothers and considering the marriage bond given by John of Nuthall for Jacob, it is logical to believe that this Jacob was another brother....Records in Nottingham give the marriage of this Jacob, on 12 April 1637, at St. Nicholas Church, Nottingham, to Elizabeth Hickton, a spinster, of Watnall, parish Greasely. Jacob was a "glasemaker." The marriage bond was made by John Concklyne, of Nuthall, also a glassmaker.....Therefore, this compiler believes that John of Flushing, Cornelius of East [H]ampton and Philip were sons of Jacob and Elizabeth (Hickton) Concklin; that after Jacob's death and Elizabeth's re-marriage to Thomas Cooke, they lived in Thomas' household, where their identities would have been lost; that they came to Salem with Thomas (and perhaps their mother); and after Thomas' death, in 1650, they went to live with their uncles, John ["of Flushing and Rye"] and Philip going to their Uncle, John of Salem [& Southold & Huntington], and Cornelius to the home of Ananias. In all probability they all first went from Salem to Southold, Long Island, and then removed, Ananias to East [H]ampton and John ... to Huntington."¹

They lived at Flushing, L.I., NY and later at Eastchester. John in 1665 bought land in Rye, Westchester Co., NY. John's line of Conklins is sometimes referred to as the "Dutch Conklins."

John Conklin born in Nottingham, England about 1632, was the eldest son of Ananias Conklin and Mary Launder who were married Feb. 23, 1631. His parents brought him to Salem, Mass., before June 25, 1638. He accompanied them to Southold about 1650 and to East Hampton 1653, and then pushed westward to seek his fortunes in the settlements nearer to New Amsterdam. He was living in Flushing in 1665 when he bought land in Rye from John Budd. He lived in Rye until 1676 when he sold his land there to John and Joseph Horton and moved to Eastchester where he died before 1698.⁴

Conklin Mann wrote, in his article "John Conckling of Flushing and Rye, New York" in the July 1950 issue of The American Genealogist: ".....My own guess is that he [John of Flushing & Rye] was closely related to John and Ananias Concklin of Salem, Mass., and Eastern Long Island, N.Y. Though evidently a generation younger, this John most certainly was not a son of either. He may have been a son of that Jacob Concklyne, glass maker, of Awlsworth Parish, Nuthall, who on 12 April 1637 married Elizabeth Hickman, spinster, at St. Nicholas Church. Jacob may have been a brother or cousin of John and Ananias Concklyne. All three were glass-makers on the Derby-Nottinghamshire border. On 25 June 1642, Elizabeth Concklyne, widow, of Nuthall, married Thomas Cooke, pistor (baker) of Ikeston, co. Derby."²

* Parentage very speculative; no proof.

Charlotte L. Giltner in "John Concklin of Flushing, Long Island, and Rye, then Conn., now New York: A Tentative Compilation" (15 Jan 1990) wrote: "One writer did state he [John Concklin of Flushing and Rye] might have been related to, and possibly son of, Jacob Concklyne, of Awlsworth, Parish Nuthall. This compiler concurs with this. ... They [John and Ananias] probably were brothers and considering the marriage bond given by John of Nuthall for Jacob, it is logical to believe that this Jacob was another brother....Records in Nottingham give the marriage of this Jacob, on 12 April 1637, at St. Nicholas Church, Nottingham, to Elizabeth Hickton, a spinster, of Watnall, parish Greasley. Jacob was a "glasemaker." The marriage bond was made by John Concklyne, of Nuthall, also a glassmaker.....Therefore, this compiler believes that John of Flushing, Cornelius of East [H]ampton and Philip were sons of Jacob and Elizabeth (Hickton) Conklin; that after Jacob's death and Elizabeth's re-marriage to Thomas Cooke, they lived in Thomas' household, where their identities would have been lost; that they came to Salem with Thomas (and perhaps their mother); and after Thomas' death, in 1650, they went to live with their uncles, John ["of Flushing and Rye"] and Philip going to their Uncle, John of Salem [& Southold & Huntington], and Cornelius to the home of Ananias. In all probability they all first went from Salem to Southold, Long Island, and then removed, Ananias to East [H]ampton and John ... to Huntington."²

In the Tarrytown ref Ch marriage record, they were: Jan Cancklie, j. m. and Annetie Storm, j. d. both born and live in Phillips Burgh.

The Old Homestead of Jan Conklin was situated just south of the present (1920) city limits of Poughkeepsie, NY, and from an old map surveyed by Gilbert Livingston, filed in the Dutchess County Clerk's Office, it was a short distance south of the Henry Livingston Mansion. The Old Jan Conklin Homestead, Henry Livingston Mansion and the Gilbert Livingston residence, are very often confused and believed by some to be one and the same building, when as a matter of fact they were separate dwellings. The Henry Livingston Mansion site was where the Phoenix Horse Shoe Company Office is now (about 1924?) located while the Jan Conklin Homestead was a short distance south; the Gilbert Livingston (a son of Henry) residence was near the south line of the Poughkeepsie Rural Cemetery.²

In his will, he wrote: I, Capt. John Concklin, of Poghkeepsie Precinct, in Dutchess County, being in good health but in an advanced age. I leave to my daughter Susanna £40, and to my two granddaughters, Johanna and Mary, daughters of my daughter Anna, deceased, £40, that is, to Johanna £25 and Mary £15. As I have paid for my son-in-Law, Teunis Tappen, who is married to my daughter Hester, upwards of £100, therefore if he shall ever pay me or my Executors that money, then I will give to Hester £40. To my son Matthew my farming utensils, as waggon, sleighs, plows, etc. The above "bequeths" not to be paid till after my estate be sold and the money received. All my wife's bedding and wearing apparel after her decease to my two daughters and two granddaughters each share alike, that is, my two granddaughters instead of their mother one share between them. To my son John my Dutch Bible for his birthright. My will is that my Executors sell all my real and personal estate, and the money after the above bequests be paid I give to my seven sons (to wit), John, Lawrence, David, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and Matthew, each share and share alike, upon this trust nevertheless that my sons do provide a competent and sufficient maintenance for my wife during her life, she to have her choice with whom or where to live, on their not complying herewith a sum from the sale of my estate shall be paid her, sufficient for a comfortable support for her for life, and after her death what shall be left to be divided equally among my seven sons. I make my sons John, Lawrence, David, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and Matthew, Executors. Dated August 5, 1785. Witnesses, Jacob Westervelt, John L. Concklin, Matthew L. Concklin (Farmer). Proved, Dutchess County, December 31, 1785. Confirmed, New York, February 14, 1786.

He was a millwright at Bedford, Westchester Co., NY.

In his will, he wrote: August 30, 1773. I, John Concklin, of Bedford, in Westchester County, millwright, being very sick. I leave to my wife Allada the use of all my estate to bring up my children and to pay debts, till my sons are of age. I also leave her the use of 1/3 for life. I leave to my son James 5 shillings "to cut off the Right of Heirship." "As my wife is now likely to have a child, if it be a son it is to have an equal share." I give my estate to my sons (not named), except £30 to my daughter, Sally Conkling, and if my wife have a daughter, it is to have £30. I make my wife and my friend, John Roll, executors. Mentions "a mortgage given to me and Jesse Lyon by Nehemiah Gregory." Witnesses, Samuel Sherwood, Zebulon Crane, Cornelius Miller. Proved, January 18, 1774.

Samuel Conklin was assessed at Chester, NY in Sep 1775. Sold grain Apr 1, 1775 to the Townsends at Sterling Iron Works.

Samuel Conkling apparently signed the mandatory pledge at Apr 1775 at Newburgh, NY as Samuel Concklin, where he would have been working out the logistics for the Townsends for a chain across the Hudson. Samuel was exempt from service during the the first part of the Revolution as he was involved with construction of the chain across the Hudson for the Townsends. It is probable that he served in the second half of war. Samuel is listed as a worker at Sterling Ironworks June 1792-May 1794; apparently say 1796 to 1801 he was at Augusta Works in Monroe (now Tuxedo) for the Townsends; 1801-1804 at Ringwood; 1804-1813 Augusta; from say 1813 to 1819 at Ringwood Iron Works (in nearby Pompton, NJ; now Ringwood); and from 1819-death at Southfields Iron Works.

He was listed in the 1790 Warwick Town, Orange County, New York Census as age over 16 (b. bef. 1774), with 4 sons under 16 (b. aft. 1774), and 4 women. He is listed in the 1800 census as over 45 (b. bef 1755), with four sons (two under 10; one 10-16; and one 16-26 [James]) and five daughters (3 under 10; and two 16-26) and wife under 45 in Monroe, Orange Co. NY. Listed on the 1810 census in Monroe over 45 (b. bef. 1765), apparently son Barton was m. and living with him (due to no children 10-16; three sons 16-26; 3 children 0-10 and a wife over 45 [she would be say 53]).

He was listed one p. before Bartin Conklin, his son, on the 1819 Pompton, NJ Tax List; and the 1820 census in Monroe as over 45 (b. bef. 1775). Listed 1825 State census at Monroe, Orange, NY. Listed the Monroe, Orange, NY census 1830, as age 80-90, meaning he was born 1750, wife 70-80 (1750-60). Not listed 1835 State Census.

He apparently was unrelated to the Elias and John Conklin that worked 1792-94 at Sterling [these seem to have come from Ulster (both together in Ulster in 1790, and neither found in the 1790 Warwick census)].
