

-- GRAHAM --

The family groups represented in this collection may not be complete, because information was entered bit by bit as I found it or happened upon it; I have not done any systematic research on these families. Because they do not compose whole family genealogies, these listings are arranged differently from most genealogical records or histories. Each listing is a family group, and is arranged and filed alphabetically under the name of the head of the family.

Names are generally in alphabetical order (disregarding spelling variations and middle names), then in approx. chronological order. The first sorting is by surname (mixing together any and all spelling variations), then by given name, then by approximate birthdate (when known) in approximate chronological order. For easier reference, surnames in headings are grouped together under the most common spelling usage that evolved in this geographical location, regardless of individualistic spellings in the records themselves. Cross references are used in most cases where surname spellings substantially vary.

Within the quoted records, the individual spellings have been (mostly) retained because they sometimes provide clues (although in general—but with exceptions—they seem to largely reflect the record keeper's particular orthography and not always, at this early period, any special family preference). Those interested can see the variety and evolution of a particular name's spelling and the interesting and sometimes amusing attempts at phonetic reproduction. Keep in mind that before names and spellings were standardized, records reflected the individualistic whim of the particular recorder (often two different spellings of the same name within the same document). In addition, all records were handwritten, and sometimes deciphering a handwritten name in early records can be quite challenging! So expect to search under all possibilities of spelling (for both surnames and given names).

Given names are grouped together without regard for middle initials or middle names. Because middle names and/or initials are sometimes used, sometimes not used in various records, it seemed simplest to arrange entries as if the middle names or initials did not exist. Usually all variations of a given name are grouped together as though spelled one way: Jan, Johannes, John, etc. are all grouped as one (but also look under the other forms).

Sources and references are included with each "family" grouping, but may or may not include sources that are cited (or are obvious, such as baptismal records, etc.) within the narrative or listing itself.

As with any compiled genealogical record, researchers should regard this information as leads and clues, and should verify all data with independent research.

I welcome, and would be grateful for, any additions or corrections, especially with source citations.

m. 1689

Elizabeth Windebane

dau. of

son of John Graham & Isabella Affick (Auchinlick)

d. before 3 April 1701

d. before 12 Jan 1700

James Graham was one of the most prominent men of New York. He was Alderman in 1680, first Recorder of the City in 1683, and filled many other high positions. He lived at 128 Pearl Street, opposite to the house of Mistress Kidd, widow of Capt. William Kidd. In the latter part of his life he leased the estate of Mr. Morris of Morrisania and lived in grand style.

The following is copied, word for word from:

<<http://www.usgennet.org/usa/ny/town/pineplains/Surnames.html> (Updated 3/25/01)>

James Graham, marquis of Montrose, left two sons, James and John. James succeeded to his father's estate, and John, it is said, married Isabella Affick, and their son James Graham was Attorney General of the province of New York. (Mrs. Martha J. Lamb, in her history of New York City, I think puts him down as son of the Great Marquis. According to the family tree this is an error which she and other historians have fallen into.) he was a merchant in New York in 1678, and later was proprietor of lands in Ulster County, Staten Island and New Jersey. December 10, 1685, he was appointed Attorney General of New York under Governor Thomas Dongan, who in the fall of 1686 writes in his report "that Mr. Graham is Attorney General and Supervisor of all patents and soe made upon Mr. Rudyard's going from this place to Barbadoes, and is a person, understanding in the law, it being his whole business." October 8, 1687, he became a member of the Council, and when the Governments of New England and New York were consolidated, he removed to Boston as Attorney General to Governor Andros, on whose downfall he was committed to prison. In 1691 he returned to New York, was chosen member of the Assembly and elected speaker. Sloughter was then Governor, and Thomas Newton, his Attorney General, having left the province in April of that year, George Farwell was appointed to fill his place. he was Governor Andros' Attorney in the revolution under Andros in Boston, and was imprisoned for some alleged illegal prosecutions. He later went to England, and returned to America, and was appointed Attorney General, successor to Newton, to prosecute Leisler and his associates. his appointment not being satisfactory, James Graham was again appointed Attorney General in May, 1691, and is said to have been "the mortal enemy of Leisler and Milborne," during the exciting events of that time. he was speaker of the Assembly from 1691 to 1694 and from 1695 to 1698, and part of 1699-nearly nine years-when the leisler faction being in the majority, the house voted a bill of indictment against their opponents. To avoid his signing the bill, being speaker, he was called to the Council in May 1698. This principally closed his public life, he attending the council for the last time July 29, 1700. he was deprived of his office of Attorney General on the 21st of january, 1701, but a few days before his death, which occurred at his residence in Morrisania, Westchester county.

In his will, James Graham, Esq., of Westchester, directed his body be buried in the New York burying place by my deceased wife. Executors Mr. Robert Serrington and Mr. Thomas Coddington. Gives to Robert Livingston and Thomas Coddington power to sell real estate. Leaves estate to children Augustine, Isabel, Mary, Sarah Margaret, and John. Witnesses: James Emott, Wm. Vesey, Th. French. Dated 12 Jan 1700; probated 3 April 1701 (Westchester Co., Liber I, p. 368).

d. 3 July 1797

James and Arabella were first cousins.

James Graham became proprietor of his father's interest in the Little Nine Partners. He and his wife are the parents of the Pine Plains Grahams. He has erroneously been considered the patentee in the Little Nine Partners, instead of his father, probably as the lands to his interest in this patent were not disposed of to any great extent until after his death.

In the Partition Deed of the Little Nine Partners, James Graham, son of Augustine, had among other numbered lots, number 48 and 29. Lot 48 commenced (the southwest corner) where now Myrtle Street, Pine Plains, intersects the "South Street" road, and thence north to the Columbia County line, thence east about a mile and a quarter and the same distance on the south side of the lot. Lot 47 joined it on the west, the north and south road being very nearly the boundary, and was the George Clarke lot. Lot 29 adjoined these two lots on the south nearly half on each. It was these two Graham lots, (Nos. 48 and 29,) of the seven lots that fell to James Graham in the division, that his (James') heirs selected for their respective future homes. At the decease of James Graham June 24, 1767, these lots and another one in the southeast part of the town, Lot 14, were occupied, the parties paying yearly rentals. Morris Graham, the acting executor of the will makes this accounting of moneys received in 1767 and 1768. "June 24, 1767, cash in the house at James Graham's, 42 pounds, 12s, 3p. Cash of Yonkhounce for rent, 6 pounds. (He and the following men were living on the above mentioned Graham lots in Pine Plains, and the amounts are for rent.) Cash of Melius, 4 pounds, 5s. Cash of Row, (Michael,) 6 pounds, 15. 6. Cash of Weaver, 4 pounds. Cash of Hoffman, 4 pounds. (These were for 1767.) In 1768, cash of Yonkhonce 6 pounds. Cash of Melius 6 pounds. Cash of Melius 1 pound, 15s. Cash of Hoffman 8 pounds. Cash of Row 6 pounds, 10s. Total cash received by executors 96 pounds, 17s, 9p. June 13, 1768, cash received of Mrs. Morris on interest at different times for which the executors gave bond, 300 pounds."

In his will, recorded in the office of the surrogate at Morrisania, he wrote: "In the name of God, amen. I, James Graham, of Morrisania, in the county of Westchester, and province of New York, being of sound and perfect mind and memory, do make and publish this, my last will and testament, in manner following, viz.: First, I will that my just debts and funeral charges be paid out of my real and personal estate, and that my executors hereafter named, have power and authority to dispose of, and sell so much land as shall be sufficient for that purpose; my will further is, that all my estate, both real and personal, (except what is hereafter excepted) that shall remain after my just debts and funeral charges are paid, be equally divided between all my children, share and share alike to them, their heirs and assigns forever. Further it is my intent and will, that the message and tract of land, with the appurtenances at Morrisania, on which I now live, together with three negro men, three negro wenches, ten cows, one pair of oxen, four horses, with the farming utensils and household furniture, be, and remain to my wife Arabella Graham, to have and to hold for and during her natural life, and after the decease of my said wife, I will, and direct my executors to sell the same, and the monies arising from the sale thereof to be equally divided among my children. I will, and order, that if any of my children should happen to die unmarried before they arrive to full and lawful age, that then, and in such case, the share belonging to such child be equally divided between the surviving children. Item-I give and bequeath to my sister, Isabella Graham, the sum of one hundred pounds, new York currency, to be paid her by my executors, out of the monies arising from the sale of land devised for the payment of my debtrs and funeral charges. Lastly, I make and ordain my wife, Arabella Graham, executrix, my sons Augustine Graham, Lewis Graham, Morris Graham, and Charles Graham, Executors of this, my last will and testament, to see the same performed according to my true intent and meaning. In witness whereof, I, the said James Graham, have to this my last will and testament, set my hand and seal, this thirteenth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and sixty seven."

Another abstract version of his will: In the name of God, Amen. I, James Graham, of Morrisania, in Westchester County, being of sound and perfect mind. I direct all just debts to be paid, and my executors may sell sufficient land for that purpose. All the rest of my estate to be divided among all my children. "It is my intent and will that the message and tract of land, with the appurtenances, at Morrisania, on which I now live, together with 3 negro men and 3 negro wenches, 10 cows, one pair of oxen, 4 horses, with the farming utensils and household furniture, be, and remain to my wife, Arabella Graham, during her life, and then to be sold and the money divided among all my children. I leave to my sister, Isabella Graham, £100. I make my wife, and my sons, Augustine, Lewis, Morris, and Charles, executors. (Dated March 10, 1767. Witnesses, Samuel Seabury, Abraham Leggett, Jonathan Landon. Proved, July 9, 1767, before John French. Confirmed September 10, 1767).

d. before 6 Oct 1704

In his will, he wrote: I, John Graham, merchant, at present of the city of New York, son of Sir Richard Graham, of Norton Coynors in Yorkshire, England, being sick and weak, do make this my last will. I leave to my good friend Thomas Byerly, Esq., her Majesty's Collector and Receiver-General for the province of New York, in respect of the friendship he has shown me, and the tender care he has had of me in my sickness, all my goods and personal estate in New York, or elsewhere in America. I leave to my good friend Mr. John Willson, now or late Postmaster in Darlington in the Bishopric of Durham in England, all my personal estate in England, but if he be not living, then to the said Thomas Byerly. Dated October 14, 1703. Witnesses, William Penn, James Reignor, William Glen. Proved before Lord Cornbury, October 6, 1704, and Letters of administration granted to Thomas Byerly.
