

-- LYNCH, LINCH --

The family groups represented in this collection may not be complete, because information was entered bit by bit as I found it or happened upon it; I have not done any systematic research on these families. Because they do not compose whole family genealogies, these listings are arranged differently from most genealogical records or histories. Each listing is a family group, and is arranged and filed alphabetically under the name of the head of the family.

Names are generally in alphabetical order (disregarding spelling variations and middle names), then in approx. chronological order. The first sorting is by surname (mixing together any and all spelling variations), then by given name, then by approximate birthdate (when known) in approximate chronological order. For easier reference, surnames in headings are grouped together under the most common spelling usage that evolved in this geographical location, regardless of individualistic spellings in the records themselves. Cross references are used in most cases where surname spellings substantially vary.

Within the quoted records, the individual spellings have been (mostly) retained because they sometimes provide clues (although in general—but with exceptions—they seem to largely reflect the record keeper's particular orthography and not always, at this early period, any special family preference). Those interested can see the variety and evolvement of a particular name's spelling and the interesting and sometimes amusing attempts at phonetic reproduction. Keep in mind that before names and spellings were standardized, records reflected the individualistic whim of the particular recorder (often two different spellings of the same name within the same document). In addition, all records were handwritten, and sometimes deciphering a handwritten name in early records can be quite challenging! So expect to search under all possibilities of spelling (for both surnames and given names).

Given names are grouped together without regard for middle initials or middle names. Because middle names and/or initials are sometimes used, sometimes not used in various records, it seemed simplest to arrange entries as if the middle names or initials did not exist. Usually all variations of a given name are grouped together as though spelled one way: Jan, Johannes, John, etc. are all grouped as one (but also look under the other forms).

Sources and references are included with each "family" grouping, but may or may not include sources that are cited (or are obvious, such as baptismal records, etc.) within the narrative or listing itself.

As with any compiled genealogical record, researchers should regard this information as leads and clues, and should verify all data with independent research.

On September 29, 1710, Anthony Lynch was elected by the Common Council "Assessor for the South Ward"; on the same date two years later "Assessor for the East Ward," and on September 29, 1715, "Collector of the East Ward."

In the will of "Anthony Lynch of New York, merchant," dated December 12, 1716, he named his wife, Mary, his son, Peter, and daughters, Sarah and Mary, legatees of his real and personal estate and he appointed as his executors Thomas Lynch, Thomas Tarpey, Rip Van Dam, Sr., and Rip Van Dam, Jr.

Rip Van Dam, father-in-law of Anthony Lynch, was one of the leading citizens of New York in his day, a member of the Common Council for thirty years and its president in 1731. He lived at the corner of Nassau Street and Maiden Lane, which at that time was one of "the social centres" for New York "society."

Margaret Rycken m. (3) Anthony Duane. Anthony Duane was the father of the Hon. James Duane, afterwards Mayor of New York.

In his will, he wrote: In the name of God, Amen. I, Thomas Lynch, of New York, merchant, being of sound mind. I give all that dwelling house and ground where Friend Lucas now lives to my two daughters Constantia and Mary. I give to my daughter Constantia a negro girl, and to my wife Margaret, a negro woman. I leave to my wife Margaret, all the right I have to the house and ground in Beaver street, which I had by her. I leave to my wife and daughters, all household goods and plate. As my son Nicholas has already had his portion, I leave him 5 shillings. I make friend Anthony Duane, executor. Dated January 2, 1736. Witnesses, John Reade, Henry Cuyler, John Kelly. Proved, April 25, 1740.
