

-- NAGLE, NAUGLE --

The family groups represented in this collection may not be complete, because information was entered bit by bit as I found it or happened upon it; I have not done any systematic research on these families. Because they do not compose whole family genealogies, these listings are arranged differently from most genealogical records or histories. Each listing is a family group, and is arranged and filed alphabetically under the name of the head of the family.

Names are generally in alphabetical order (disregarding spelling variations and middle names), then in approx. chronological order. The first sorting is by surname (mixing together any and all spelling variations), then by given name, then by approximate birthdate (when known) in approximate chronological order. For easier reference, surnames in headings are grouped together under the most common spelling usage that evolved in this geographical location, regardless of individualistic spellings in the records themselves. Cross references are used in most cases where surname spellings substantially vary.

Within the quoted records, the individual spellings have been (mostly) retained because they sometimes provide clues (although in general—but with exceptions—they seem to largely reflect the record keeper's particular orthography and not always, at this early period, any special family preference). Those interested can see the variety and evolvement of a particular name's spelling and the interesting and sometimes amusing attempts at phonetic reproduction. Keep in mind that before names and spellings were standardized, records reflected the individualistic whim of the particular recorder (often two different spellings of the same name within the same document). In addition, all records were handwritten, and sometimes deciphering a handwritten name in early records can be quite challenging! So expect to search under all possibilities of spelling (for both surnames and given names).

Given names are grouped together without regard for middle initials or middle names. Because middle names and/or initials are sometimes used, sometimes not used in various records, it seemed simplest to arrange entries as if the middle names or initials did not exist. Usually all variations of a given name are grouped together as though spelled one way: Jan, Johannes, John, etc. are all grouped as one (but also look under the other forms).

Sources and references are included with each "family" grouping, but may or may not include sources that are cited (or are obvious, such as baptismal records, etc.) within the narrative or listing itself.

As with any compiled genealogical record, researchers should regard this information as leads and clues, and should verify all data with independent research.

I welcome, and would be grateful for, any additions or corrections, especially with source citations.

On 25 April 1710 Barent and his brother Resolvert Nagle bought from Lancaster Symes, merchant and land speculator, the north 1030 acres of his tract in the King's Woods (deed recorded 2 May 1750 Orange Co.), which was divided in 1748, the north portion to Barent's heirs and the south portion to Resolvert. The land near the Hudson River from the Lockhart Patent on the north extending down to the Closter Dock Road (which was a one time thought to be the state border) was known as The King's Woods, and had been patented in 1701 to Bernardus Vervelen of New Rochelle, who sold to Symes in 1709.

Barent immediately settled on his purchase and built a stone house (which burned about 1930¹).

Barent was a justice of the peace.

They probably lived at what is now 80 Hickory Lane, Closter, Bergen County, NJ, in a sandstone Flemish style house built by or for him about 1775 on land that was part of the original Nagle/Naugle tract.¹

Maria Auryansen was Isaac's cousin.

Lea Powles had a child by her first husband, Jan Ferdon: Lea Ferdon, bp. 1785, m. 1810 Jacob Ryker of Tappan. Lea Powles, widow of Isaac Nagle, m. (3) Benjamin Blackledge, Jr., widower; she m. (4) 4 Jan 1817 Hackensack, Benjamin Westervelt.

Isaac built a house near Piermont Road in Closter about 1775 on land he received from his father. Tradition states that the house was sacked three times during the Revolution by Tories and was used as a smallpox hospital while the army was camped in the vicinity during Andre's trial. The house was inherited by Isaac's only son, Henry I. Naugle.

In the NYC Ref Ch record of their banns and marriage, they were: Jan Nagel, j.m. V. N. Haarlem, met Magdalena Dyckman, j.d. V. N. Haarlem.

In his will, he wrote: ...I, John Nagel, of Harlem in New York, being far advanced in years, but of sound mind. I direct all debts to be paid. I leave to my three sons, John, Jacob, and William, all my real estate, houses, and lands, on condition that they pay to my four daughters, Magdalen, wife of my cousin, John Nagel; Katharine, Rebecca, wife of Hendrick Gost [Post], and Deborah, each £100. I leave to my sons all my negroes and horses, and my looms and weaving tackling, and a good feather bed and bedding. I leave to my daughters Katharine and Deborah an outset such as their sisters had when married. The rest of my estate I leave to all my children. I make my sons John and Jacob executors. In their translated marriage record, they were: Jurriaan Nagell, young man from N. York, residing in Bushwick, with Maria Philips Langelaan, young lady from Pijnacker in Holland, also residing in Bushwick.

He lived at Bushwick, then NYC, then returned to Bushwick. He was a soldier under Leisler during 1689-90. He was a Deacon, Bushwick Ref Ch; helped build new church there in 1706, where he owned a 95 acre farm.

In his will, he wrote: December 2, 1732. I, Jurian Nagle, of Bushwyck, in Kings County, being sick. I leave to my wife Jannette, all my estate "during her life, provided she soe long remains my widow. To my eldest son, Philip, £25, for his birth right. To my youngest son, John, £75. After my wife's decease, all to go to my children, Philip, Margaret, wife of Charles Coverts, Jacobus, and John, and to the children of my daughter Neeltie. My executors are to take the part of my son John, and maintain him during his life. "Jurian Conselye, son of my daughter Margaret, shall have so much money out of his mother's portion till he is satisfied for the house of his father." I make my sons Philip and Johanes, and my son-in-law, Andries Stockholm, executors. Witnesses, Hendrick Vandewater, Peter De Witt, Abraham Lott. Proved, May 23, 1738.
