

-- VAN BLARCOM --

The family groups represented in this collection may not be complete, because information was entered bit by bit as I found it or happened upon it; I have not done any systematic research on these families. Because they do not compose whole family genealogies, these listings are arranged differently from most genealogical records or histories. Each listing is a family group, and is arranged and filed alphabetically under the name of the head of the family.

Names are generally in alphabetical order (disregarding spelling variations and middle names), then in approx. chronological order. The first sorting is by surname (mixing together any and all spelling variations), then by given name, then by approximate birthdate (when known) in approximate chronological order. For easier reference, surnames in headings are grouped together under the most common spelling usage that evolved in this geographical location, regardless of individualistic spellings in the records themselves. Cross references are used in most cases where surname spellings substantially vary.

Within the quoted records, the individual spellings have been (mostly) retained because they sometimes provide clues (although in general—but with exceptions—they seem to largely reflect the record keeper's particular orthography and not always, at this early period, any special family preference). Those interested can see the variety and evolution of a particular name's spelling and the interesting and sometimes amusing attempts at phonetic reproduction. Keep in mind that before names and spellings were standardized, records reflected the individualistic whim of the particular recorder (often two different spellings of the same name within the same document). In addition, all records were handwritten, and sometimes deciphering a handwritten name in early records can be quite challenging! So expect to search under all possibilities of spelling (for both surnames and given names).

Given names are grouped together without regard for middle initials or middle names. Because middle names and/or initials are sometimes used, sometimes not used in various records, it seemed simplest to arrange entries as if the middle names or initials did not exist. Usually all variations of a given name are grouped together as though spelled one way: Jan, Johannes, John, etc. are all grouped as one (but also look under the other forms).

Sources and references are included with each "family" grouping, but may or may not include sources that are cited (or are obvious, such as baptismal records, etc.) within the narrative or listing itself.

As with any compiled genealogical record, researchers should regard this information as leads and clues, and should verify all data with independent research.

I welcome, and would be grateful for, any additions or corrections, especially with source citations.

[An] early "Gerritsen" was Gerrit Lubbertsen, son of Lubbert Gysbertsen. Gerrit Lubbertsen's sons "froze" the patronymic "Gerritsen" and were in later generations known by the surname Gerritsen/Garrison. (Another of Lubbert Gysbertsen's son, Jan Lubbertsen, left "Jansen" children who about 1700 began calling themselves Van Blarcom after the family's onetime home in the Netherlands. In the 1784 m. license record, he is of Acquackanonk.

They lived on Willis Street in what became Paterson on his father's farm. Hendrick served in the Revolution as a private in the state militia and afterwards in Col. Oliver Spencer's Regiment in the Continental Army. He became a Captain, and is known as Capt. Henry Van Blarcom.

Nelson tells the story that "there is a very pleasant family tradition preserved of him, to the effect that when the American army evacuated Fort Lee, and was in retreat, Van Blarcom took on his back Paul Rutan, a wounded drummer boy, and swam with him across a broad stream (probably Overpeck Creek), drum and all. Paul was the son of a friend who lived in the Bogt."

Hendrick was a shoemaker and had a tan-yard at his Willis Street address.

Isaac was a British sympathizer during the Revolution.

Nelson tells the story that one day during the Revolution "a foraging party entered Isaac's house and stripped it of everything in the way of provender. As they were marching off, Mrs. Van Blarcom, whose Scotch blood was thoroughly aroused, came running after them, with three or four of her little children. 'What do you want?' inquired an officer. 'Your soldiers have carried away all the food in my house. I have nothing left to feed my children; so, you had better take them, too.' The story has its proper artistic ending, in the restitution of the soldiers' spoil."

His will, written 23 April 1806 with a codicil dated Novembr 1812 and proved 14 April 1813 Bergen County, is abstracted in the NJ Archives: Wife Sarah, all estate, real and personal during widowhood. Son, William, homestead whereon I now live (38 acres), subject to a legacy. Son, Isaak, 100 acres adjoining above farm, as bought from John Stevens. Son, Daniel, house and lot bought of John Van Voorhees, at Wyckoff (34 acres)...

Jan Lubbertsen was in New Netherland by 8 Sep 1654, when he was appointed to a clerkship in the secretary's office of the Director of Council of New Netherland. On 5 Dec 1654 he was granted a patent for a tract of land on the west side of the North River, between Gemoenepaen and the Kil van Kol, at Bergen Neck where he located. Later he lived at Bergen.

According to record of their marriage intentions, they were: Jan Lubbertsen, Van Edam, en Magdaleentje Theunis, Van Voorsthuysen. Those locations may, however, be the ports from which they sailed, because Jan's children adopted the surname Van Blarcom, indicating that Jan probably was a native of Blaricum, a village four or five miles from Edam. (Zabriskie says the "Van Blaricum" surname was based on Jan's father's birthplace, Blaricum in Gooiland, Noordt Holland.

Jan was called "Captain," a title he may have gained from a command in the militia at Gemoenepaen, or possibly in an expedition against the Indians in 1663. Jan's children were often referred to in records as "Kapt" or "Capteyn"—for instance, Lubbert Janse Kapt.

In the (1) marriage record, they are "Johannes Van Blerkom, y.m., b. and lives at Ackinsack, and Jannetie Van Zeyl, y.d., b. and lives Acquigenonck."

They lived in Franklin Township, probably near what is today Wyckoff, Bergen County, NJ.

In 1755 Johannes placed the following notice in the newspapers: "Whereas Merity Van Blarikom, wife of me, Johanes Van Blarikom, in the County of Bergen, East New Jersey, hath absconded herself from me, her Husband, this 2nd Day of July, in the year 1755. These are therefore to forewarn all Merchants and Tradesmen, either in the City or Country, not to trust her, the said Merity on my Account, for I will pay no debts contracted by her from this Date."

This estrangement was evidently not permanent, as she was mentioned in his will, and their son Peter was charged with her care.

His will, dated 25 Nov 1772; pr. 12 Mar 1773 mentions "the improvement where [son John] dwells, at the Cranberry Vley..."

On 23 Apr 1724 John Van Blarcom bought 400 acres of land in the Ramapo Valley near Sloatsburg, NY from the Indians. He did not retain ownership of this tract and may never have lived on it. According to Harvey's Genealogical History of Hudson and Bergen Counties, NJ, he moved from Paramus, NJ to near Nanuet, NY in 1735. Although his place of residence cannot be precisely determined, he apparently lived in the northern New Jersey-southern New York area.

On 19 December 1769, John Van Blerkum, yeoman, of Bergen County, conveyed to Herremanus Van Blerkum and Peter Van Blerkum, for £500, concerning the estate of Peter Jan Van Blerkum, deceased. Witnessed by Roelif Westervelt, Albert Zabriskie (his mark), John Fell.<sup>1</sup>
