

-- VAN DEURSEN --

The family groups represented in this collection may not be complete, because information was entered bit by bit as I found it or happened upon it; I have not done any systematic research on these families. Because they do not compose whole family genealogies, these listings are arranged differently from most genealogical records or histories. Each listing is a family group, and is arranged and filed alphabetically under the name of the head of the family.

Names are generally in alphabetical order (disregarding spelling variations and middle names), then in approx. chronological order. The first sorting is by surname (mixing together any and all spelling variations), then by given name, then by approximate birthdate (when known) in approximate chronological order. For easier reference, surnames in headings are grouped together under the most common spelling usage that evolved in this geographical location, regardless of individualistic spellings in the records themselves. Cross references are used in most cases where surname spellings substantially vary.

Within the quoted records, the individual spellings have been (mostly) retained because they sometimes provide clues (although in general—but with exceptions—they seem to largely reflect the record keeper's particular orthography and not always, at this early period, any special family preference). Those interested can see the variety and evolvement of a particular name's spelling and the interesting and sometimes amusing attempts at phonetic reproduction. Keep in mind that before names and spellings were standardized, records reflected the individualistic whim of the particular recorder (often two different spellings of the same name within the same document). In addition, all records were handwritten, and sometimes deciphering a handwritten name in early records can be quite challenging! So expect to search under all possibilities of spelling (for both surnames and given names).

Given names are grouped together without regard for middle initials or middle names. Because middle names and/or initials are sometimes used, sometimes not used in various records, it seemed simplest to arrange entries as if the middle names or initials did not exist. Usually all variations of a given name are grouped together as though spelled one way: Jan, Johannes, John, etc. are all grouped as one (but also look under the other forms).

Sources and references are included with each "family" grouping, but may or may not include sources that are cited (or are obvious, such as baptismal records, etc.) within the narrative or listing itself.

As with any compiled genealogical record, researchers should regard this information as leads and clues, and should verify all data with independent research.

I welcome, and would be grateful for, any additions or corrections, especially with source citations.

The marriage record for Abraham's parents shows that Pijter Jans van Doersen was from the small village of Deursen in northern North Brabant. Abraham's mother, Pulijn Vinken, was from Roeslare, a small city in West Flanders, Belgium.¹ Abrahamse Pieterse was in Manhattan with two other skilled millwrights in 1625. He evidently stayed for a while, then returned to the Netherlands where he married.

Abraham Pieterszen again came to New Amsterdam around 1634. In 1636 he took possession for the Dutch West India Company of the Island of Quetenesse, in Narricane Bay, near Rhode Island. What the Dutch called "Sloop's Bay" is the West Passage to Narragansett Bay, and the island that Abraham Pietersen Van Deursen occupied as a trading post is now called Dutch Island.

In 1638 he was spoken of as the first miller in New Amsterdam. He became one of the leading citizens in New Amsterdam being in 1641 elected one of the "Twelve Men" who tried to advise Governor Kieft in his administration of the affairs of the colony. In 1643, Governor Kieft was considered in need of control as well as advice and the "Eight Men" were elected and continued in office until 1647, Abraham Pietersen Van Deursen being a member of this most important body also.

In 1658 he was given a permit to build a water mill on the "Fresh Water." This was a stream emptying into the East River near the present James and Cherry Streets. About this time he commenced to manufacture groats, which until then had been imported from Holland. At various times he leased bouweries (farms) belonging to the Company. In New Netherland the miller was often licensed as an innkeeper for the convenience of farmers who were waiting for their grain to be ground, so this position he sometimes held. Evidently believing in the adage, "first come, first served," he was complained of by an agent of the company, whom he kept waiting in turn. The authorities ordered him thereafter to grind the grain belonging to the company at once, and not in turn. This is the only charge ever made against him on the records.

9 Jan 1663 -- Jan Joosten, pltf. v/s Abraham Pietersen, miller, deft. Plyf says, he sold to Tomas Jansen Mingael, defts. son in law, a yacht, on which there is still to be paid one thousand and fourteen guilders in sewant and requests that the yacht may be sold to obtain his pay from it. Deft. says, there is no money to pay and if the Magistrates think fit, that the yacht may be sold for the best advantage of the widow.³

In 1665 he was taxed one guilder a week for the support of the British soldiers. At that time he was living on the "Heere Straat," now Broadway, a short distance below Wall Street.

He is also called Abraham Pieterssen, Molenaer, or Miller.

In the NYC Ref Ch record of their banns and marriage they were: Abraham Van Deursen, j.m. Van N. York, met Luercia Bogardus, j.d. Van N. York.

On April 10, 1738, he resided "in ye Beat of Capt. Mathew Clarkson" in City of New York. He was a member of the Colonial Militia and resided in New York in a house on the west side of Broad Street, a few doors north of Beaver, where he followed the occupation of tallow chandler.

In his will, he wrote: ...I, Abraham Van Duersen, of New York, tallow chandler, being at present indisposed. I order all just debts to be paid. I leave to my son Peter £10, To my son William all my wearing apparell. I leave to my two daughters Amalie and Hester all my plate, beds, bedding, furniture, and household goods, and kitchen furniture. I leave to my son Abraham my soap kettles, tallow pot, and all the tools and implements belonging to the candle-making business. My children who are not yet married are to remain in my house where I live for two years, "and that free and clear of house rent." I leave to my son Abraham the house and lot where I now live, and he is to pay to my estate the sum of £300. All the rest of my estate and the £300 I leave to all my children, Peter, William, Abraham, Amalie, Maria, wife of Joris Brinkerhoff, Hester, and Catharine, widow of Isaac Van Vleek, and now wife of Samuel Eman, and her children, Abraham, Isaac, and Lucretia Van Vleek, The said Catharine and her children to have one-seventh. The part of my grandchildren is to be put at interest till they are of age. I make my son Abraham and my daughters Amalie and Hester, executors. May 21, 1761. Witnesses, Henry Ludlow, baker, John Van Cortlandt, William Young, perukemaker. Proved, June 28, 1762, before Edward Smith, "thereto authorized." Confirmed by Governor Monckton, June 28, 1762. [NOTE.--The house of Abraham Van Duersen was on the west side of Broad street, a few doors north of Beaver street.--W. S. P.]

In the (1) marriage record, they are "Isaack Van Deuse, y.m., b. N. York, living Tappan, and Angentie Laroe, y.d., b. Ackinsack and living there."

At the time of their (2) marriage, Elizabeth Rooseboom was of New York, living at Ramapo.

Isaac bought a tract of land from the Indians adjoining the Wynant Van Gelder tract (in or near what is now Sloatsburg, Rockland Co., NY) and was probably the first white settler in the New York part of the Ramapo Valley, possibly living here by 1719, when his dau. Lea, was born ("at Ramapo," according to her m. record).

He was on the roll of "Captyn Cornelis Harings Company of Orange County Militia," Oct. 25, 1715, his name appears as ysack Van Dures, and in his will, dated June 14, 1783, probated Apr. 30, 1792, as Van Duzer, which spelling has been followed by his descendants. He resided at Tappan, N. J., in 1718; Ramapo Valley, N. Y., from 1724 to 1748, and Cornwall thereafter. He owned one thousand acres of land at Cornwall and was by occupation a farmer and tavern keeper in the Murderers Creek area in the northern part of the Clove (Orange County, N.Y.)

Isaac's will was dated June 14, 1783, probated Apr. 30, 1792, he as Isaac Van Duzer, bp.

In 1677, being about to return to Holland, Catalyntje, his wife, got a certificate from the "Commissarissen" at Albany that she was the daughter of Claes Van Eslant, deceased, undertaker in New Amsterdam, and that her mother's name was Willempe Harpers Van der Linde. Her object in returning to Holland was to collect certain legacies due her there. Her husband Van Deusen and brother Claas also gave her powers of attorney to collect the legacies left them by their uncle Harmanus Antonides Van der Linde, minister in his lifetime at Naerden.

In 1683 he was a member of the Dutch Church at Albany, and in Sept., 1689, he was a resident of the second ward of that city, at which time he subscribed ø 2 "for ye Raiseing of some men for ye Defence of this County against ye french."

In his will, he wrote: ...I, Peter Van Deursen, of New York, Tallow chandler. I charge my whole estate with the payment of debts and funeral charges. I leave to my wife Mary all my household furniture. "I leave to my eldest son Peter my silver hilted sword, in bar of anything he may pretend to claim as heir at law." I leave all the rest to my wife so long as she continues my widow, in order to support herself and bring up my children, and she has power to sell my negro slaves. If she marries, I direct all my estate to be sold at public or private sale, as my executors may think fit. From the proceeds, I leave to my wife £200, and the rest to my children, Lucretia, wife of Robert Watts, Peter, Mary, Ann, Hester, William, and my daughter Eddy [Edith?], to be paid when my youngest child is of age. If any of my children marry, they are to have £50 on the day of their marriage. I make my wife executor. Dated October 16, 1762. Witnesses, James Van Varck, Gabriel H. Ludlow, Joseph Hildreth, Gent. Towards the close of the year 1683, William Van Deusen was accepted as a member of the Dutch Church at Albany, and in 1720 we find him an Elder there. On Jan. 24, 1699, he took the oath of allegiance to the British and was a member of "Capt. Johannis Mingaels Comp. ye 10 oc'ber 1715, City of Albany." He was also an active participator in the political life of the colony, being chosen Assessor for the Third Ward of Albany Oct. 14, 1703. His name is mentioned frequently in the Colonial Records of the time. He acted in the capacity of firemaster, as the following record shows. "Dec. 7, 1706, The Council resolved to appoint the following persons as fyremasters for ye Ensueing year until the 19th of October next. William Hogan Anthony Coster, William Jacobsz (Van Deusen), Johs. Claes, Jan Evertse & Jacobus Schuyler, who are to vew the Chimneys, where fyres are kept within the city and oyer convenient places once in each 14 nights and where they find chimneys extraordinary foul to fine ye owner in ye summe of three shillings." (Van Deusen Genealogy, p. 40). His house stood on the north corner of Maiden Lane and Pearl Street, Albany, in 1711.

On 16 Sep 1735 William Van Duersen, cordwainer, was admitted freeman of NYC. He made his will in NYC, as tallow chandler, 21 Mar 1787, probated 10 Sep 1789 (NY Co. Wills 40:194).

In his will, he wrote: ...I, William Van Deursen, tallow chandler, of New York City, to my son Peter, all my utensils and materials belonging to the soap and tallow-candle business; to my son Isaac, all my wearing apparel; to my daughter Lucretia, wife of Basil Frances, her picture; to my daughter Elizabeth, my four pictures of myself, my wife, my daughter Lucretia, and my son Abraham; to my daughters, Annaka, Sarah, and Elizabeth, all my household furniture, bedding, and linen. The residue of my estate to be sold, and the money arising divided into twelve parts; to my son Abraham, one equal twelfth; to my daughter Lucretia, wife of Basil Frances, one equal twelfth part; if she should happen to die in the lifetime of her husband, then her share to be given to her two children, Benjamin Herring and Catherina Herring, equally; to my daughter Catherina, wife of William Gruesbeck, one equal twelfth part; to my son William, one equal twelfth part; to my son Peter, one equal twelfth part; to my son Isaac, one equal twelfth part; to my daughter Sarah, one equal twelfth part; to my daughter Elizabeth, one equal twelfth part; to my daughter Hester, wife of William Colbratt, one equal twelfth part, together with my silver tankard and chest of drawers; to the children of my daughter Mary, deceased, late wife of Direck Schuyler, one equal twelfth part; to my daughter Cornelia, one equal twelfth part; to my daughter Annaka, one equal twelfth part. I appoint my brother, Abraham Van Deursen; my sons, William, Peter, and Isaac, and my son-in-law, William Colbratt, executors. Dated March 21, 1787. Witnesses, Thomas Ash, windsor chairmaker; James Craig, Richard Asbridge. Proved, September 10, 1789.
