

-- VANDENBERG --

The family groups represented in this collection may not be complete, because information was entered bit by bit as I found it or happened upon it; I have not done any systematic research on these families. Because they do not compose whole family genealogies, these listings are arranged differently from most genealogical records or histories. Each listing is a family group, and is arranged and filed alphabetically under the name of the head of the family.

Names are generally in alphabetical order (disregarding spelling variations and middle names), then in approx. chronological order. The first sorting is by surname (mixing together any and all spelling variations), then by given name, then by approximate birthdate (when known) in approximate chronological order. For easier reference, surnames in headings are grouped together under the most common spelling usage that evolved in this geographical location, regardless of individualistic spellings in the records themselves. Cross references are used in most cases where surname spellings substantially vary.

Within the quoted records, the individual spellings have been (mostly) retained because they sometimes provide clues (although in general—but with exceptions—they seem to largely reflect the record keeper's particular orthography and not always, at this early period, any special family preference). Those interested can see the variety and evolution of a particular name's spelling and the interesting and sometimes amusing attempts at phonetic reproduction. Keep in mind that before names and spellings were standardized, records reflected the individualistic whim of the particular recorder (often two different spellings of the same name within the same document). In addition, all records were handwritten, and sometimes deciphering a handwritten name in early records can be quite challenging! So expect to search under all possibilities of spelling (for both surnames and given names).

Given names are grouped together without regard for middle initials or middle names. Because middle names and/or initials are sometimes used, sometimes not used in various records, it seemed simplest to arrange entries as if the middle names or initials did not exist. Usually all variations of a given name are grouped together as though spelled one way: Jan, Johannes, John, etc. are all grouped as one (but also look under the other forms).

Sources and references are included with each "family" grouping, but may or may not include sources that are cited (or are obvious, such as baptismal records, etc.) within the narrative or listing itself.

As with any compiled genealogical record, researchers should regard this information as leads and clues, and should verify all data with independent research.

In the Albany Ref Ch record of their marriage, they were: Cornelis Van den Berg, y.m., b. at New Albany, and Maria Winnen, y.d., b. in Colony of Rensselaerswyck, both l. at New Albany. Married July 6 at h. of Col. Pr. Schuyler.

Cornelis Willemse Van den Bergh lived in Albany, where he was a carman and millwright.

In his will, he wrote: I, Cornelis Willimse van der Burgh of the city of Albany, carman, being very weak of body. I leave to my wife Maryke my lot of land lying in the manor of Rensselaerwyck, lying between the house and lot of Cornelius Van Ess, and the house and lot of Johans Outhout, and on the west side of the highway leading from the city of Albany to the mill. My now dwelling house I direct to be sold for payment of debts, and the balance to be paid to my wife to enable her to bring up the children. "Since I have reason to believe that my beloved wife is now with child, it shall have an equal share with the rest. I make Winant Willimse van der Burgh and Francis Winne executors. I give my gun, pistols, and holsters to my eldest son William, in lieu of any pretence he may make as heir-at-law (other children not named). Witnesses, Hannah Hansen, Abraham Staats, John Collins. Proved, May 14, 1713.

Lucas Dirckszen (Vandenburgh) was of German origin; he arrived in New Amsterdam prior to 1653.

22 March 1656. Conveyance. "Harck Syboutsen to Luycas Dircksen Van Bergh. "A lot on the east side of the Graft, between the lot of Jan Rutgersen on the south, and Jochem Beeckman on the north. Breadth in front on the street, or west side, 2 rods 5 feet; in the rear, or north side, 8 rods 4-1/2 feet; depth on the south side, 8 rods 6 feet, and on the east, 7 rods 5 feet. Being premises conveyed by Lourens Pietersen to said Harck Syboutsen, 18th February, 1656, and patented to said Pietersen 12th March, 1647." Note in margin: "East side of Broad st., below Beaver st." [Valentine 1861:583]¹

Annetje Cornelis m. (2) Jacob Fabritius, the Lutheran minister. Rev. Jacob Fabritius had come from Holland in 1669 and was given a church at Albany, NY. While there, he was suspended by Gov. Lovelace for conduct unbecoming to his calling. He then went to New Castle, Delaware. By the end of 1674, Fabritius had worn out his welcome in New York and was again removed from the pulpit, with permission to go to Delaware. While in Delaware in 1675, he immediately had difficulties with the civil authorities. While serving as a minister at New Castle, he was arrested for disturbing the peace and sent back to New York to stand trial on 15 Sep 1675. As a result, he was suspended from the ministry. Fabritius next appeared in the Wiccacoe Church [now Gloria Dei] at Philadelphia in 1677. Five years later, he became blind, and apparently continued there until his death around 1691-93.²
