

-- VANDERBEEK --

The family groups represented in this collection may not be complete, because information was entered bit by bit as I found it or happened upon it; I have not done any systematic research on these families. Because they do not compose whole family genealogies, these listings are arranged differently from most genealogical records or histories. Each listing is a family group, and is arranged and filed alphabetically under the name of the head of the family.

Names are generally in alphabetical order (disregarding spelling variations and middle names), then in approx. chronological order. The first sorting is by surname (mixing together any and all spelling variations), then by given name, then by approximate birthdate (when known) in approximate chronological order. For easier reference, surnames in headings are grouped together under the most common spelling usage that evolved in this geographical location, regardless of individualistic spellings in the records themselves. Cross references are used in most cases where surname spellings substantially vary.

Within the quoted records, the individual spellings have been (mostly) retained because they sometimes provide clues (although in general—but with exceptions—they seem to largely reflect the record keeper's particular orthography and not always, at this early period, any special family preference). Those interested can see the variety and evolvement of a particular name's spelling and the interesting and sometimes amusing attempts at phonetic reproduction. Keep in mind that before names and spellings were standardized, records reflected the individualistic whim of the particular recorder (often two different spellings of the same name within the same document). In addition, all records were handwritten, and sometimes deciphering a handwritten name in early records can be quite challenging! So expect to search under all possibilities of spelling (for both surnames and given names).

Given names are grouped together without regard for middle initials or middle names. Because middle names and/or initials are sometimes used, sometimes not used in various records, it seemed simplest to arrange entries as if the middle names or initials did not exist. Usually all variations of a given name are grouped together as though spelled one way: Jan, Johannes, John, etc. are all grouped as one (but also look under the other forms).

Sources and references are included with each "family" grouping, but may or may not include sources that are cited (or are obvious, such as baptismal records, etc.) within the narrative or listing itself.

As with any compiled genealogical record, researchers should regard this information as leads and clues, and should verify all data with independent research.

I welcome, and would be grateful for, any additions or corrections, especially with source citations.

Vanderbeek

Vanderbeek or Vanderbeeck meaning "Of the Brook." The family belonged to the nobility of Germany and of the Netherlands at a very early period. The first reference to them in the ancient chronicle was in 1162 AD when the Empire Frederick Barbarosca presented a valorous knight of their race with a handsome coat of arms. From that time up to the present century their name has been frequent in the annals of both Germany and Holland where they earned honor by courage in war and public service in peace.

* According to Howard Durie, Jan Pieterszen "Van Husum," widower, and Grietje Jans "Van Groeningen," were married at N.Y. on 15 May 1652. They removed to Brooklyn where they were members of the Dutch Church by 1660. Their daughter Elsie married Conradus Vanderbeck and they became the ancestors of the Bergen County, New Jersey, branch of that family, through their eldest son Paulus who settled at Hackensack by 1708. Their daughter Sarah m., as his 2nd wife, John Perry and they lived near the NJ/NY border in the Kakiat Patent. Jan Pieterszen had adopted the name of Staats before 1697, when his name is found "Jan Pieterszen Staats," as a witness at Brooklyn. Sarah Jans was a sponsor for Abraham bp. 1 Apr 1682 at N.Y., son of Conradus Vanderbeck and Elsie Jans, her sister.

*According to Margery Frees the first wife of Coenradus van der beek was Elsie Jans who was the daughter of Jan Pietersen [Staats; Van Husum] and Grietje Jans. Grietje Jans was the widow of Frederick Jansen [Blauw]. Elsie Jans their daughter was baptized on 13 July 1653.

In the record of their banns, they were: Paulus Vander Beeck, j.m. Van Bremen, en Maria Thomas, Wede. Van Willem de Cuper.

Paulus was originally a farmer from Bremen, went to Curacao, then to New Netherland, became a farmer on Long Island. Paulus was a surgeon for the Dutch West India Company (He had served in Curacao and on the company's ships).

He was of Brooklyn in 1655; in 1660 a butcher in New Amsterdam; in 1661 farmer of the excise of L.I.; in 1662 a ferry-master; 24 Oct 1663 bought a plantation lot in Gravesend; later lived in Gowanus. He was a surgeon, a butcher, a farmer, a ferry master, and a collector of taxes.

May 12, 1646, ground-brief for lot 14, a house with garden next to lot of Willem Bredenbent (his step-father-in-law). He lived at lot 36, Block C, on the Castello Plan map. He was a member of the Convention, in 1653. Deed, March 22, 1653, to the Deaconry of New Amsterdam for the same. Maria and Paulus were in New York City until ca. 1655. He was a farmer of the burgher's excise of wine and beer. He sold the same, but the brewers of New Amsterdam complained, in Jan. 1657, that this was a violation of the order of the Netherlands. A Small Burgher - April 11, 1657. They later lived in the Bennet house, in Brooklyn. He was the first physician or surgeon in the small settlement (1660 - 31 families, 134 people) of Gowanus (Breuckelin), where he maintained a large and prosperous farm, and practiced his profession. Farmer of the Revenue, 1656-1661. 1660, he is shown as farmer of the slaughter (butcher), in NYC, in court records. Manhattan. 1661, Farming the excise on Long Island. 1662. Ferrymaster, Manhattan and Brooklyn in 1662. He bought plantation lot #17 at Gravesend, Oct. 24, 1663. 1665, lived Brooklyn. 1675, taxpayer, Brooklyn. 1677, one of patentees of the Brooklyn patent. Aug. 6, 1679, he sold one half of the farm in Gowanus, formerly of William Bradenbent, to Willem Huyken, for 3000 guilders. He resided on the farm late of Garret Bergen, in Gowanus.¹

Paulus left Gowanus, Brooklyn before his marriages and lived in New York; then he moved to New Jersey.

In the NYC Ref Ch record of their marriage, they were: Paulus Van der Beeck, j.m. van de Gujanes, en Jannetje Johannes wede van Jacob Colve, beyde woonende alhier.

Paulus and Jannetje Vanderbeek joined the Dutch Reformed Church of Hackensack on 30 Sep 1710 with letters from New York.

This Paulus Vanderbeek is likely the one who bought land at Weirimus from Thomas Van Buskirk and left it to his son Conradus. Conradus was in possession of the land sometime before 1742.

In the record of their banns, they were: "Remmet Janszen, j.m. Van Jeveren, en Janneken Rapalje, j.d. Van N. Nederlant"

Rem was born in Jever, which is today in the Oldenburg region in northern Germany.

He came to New Netherland in 1642. Rem and Jannetje settled in Albany, NY, at that time called Fort Orange. He took up a farm, opened a forge, and prospered in both callings. Wishing to protect his family from Indian uprisings in the Fort Orange area, he then acquired a tract of meadow and marshland at the Wallabout (in Brooklyn) which was held by the family for more than 200 years. Shortly after his arrival, he was made an official and during the second Dutch administration, he became a magistrate.¹

Rem(ment) Jansen Vanderbeeck came to the Nieuw Netherlands in 1642. He was born in either Jeveren in Westphalia or Coevorden in Overijssel. No birth dates have been established. He was a farmer and in addition, a skillful "smith" (blacksmith). Soon after Rem's arrival, he married Annetje (B-18Aug1628;D-aft.1681), daughter of Joris Jansen de Rapelje and they settled in Albany--then Fort Orange/Beverwyck. He took up a farm, opened a forge, and prospered. He was a man of powerful physique and sweet disposition, a good natured laughing giant who won the affection of young and old. He accumulated property and would have doubtless remained in his first home but for the rumors of an Indian uprising. Rem took up a fine track of meadow and marshland at the Wallabout which was held by the family 200 years. In Brooklyn he was as popular as he was at Fort Orange and during the second Dutch administration, he became a magistrate.

A family tradition says that Jannetje Rapelje, in her babyhood, with her Indian nurse, sailed across Buttermilk Channel in a Dutch washtub. That body of water between Governor's Island and Brooklyn, which now floats an ocean steamer, was then a shallow estuary which, at very low tide, could be waded across by a grown man.

Apparently some of his children took the surname Remsen and others took the surname Vanderbeck
