

-- WANAMAKER --

The family groups represented in this collection may not be complete, because information was entered bit by bit as I found it or happened upon it; I have not done any systematic research on these families. Because they do not compose whole family genealogies, these listings are arranged differently from most genealogical records or histories. Each listing is a family group, and is arranged and filed alphabetically under the name of the head of the family.

Names are generally in alphabetical order (disregarding spelling variations and middle names), then in approx. chronological order. The first sorting is by surname (mixing together any and all spelling variations), then by given name, then by approximate birthdate (when known) in approximate chronological order. For easier reference, surnames in headings are grouped together under the most common spelling usage that evolved in this geographical location, regardless of individualistic spellings in the records themselves. Cross references are used in most cases where surname spellings substantially vary.

Within the quoted records, the individual spellings have been (mostly) retained because they sometimes provide clues (although in general—but with exceptions—they seem to largely reflect the record keeper's particular orthography and not always, at this early period, any special family preference). Those interested can see the variety and evolvement of a particular name's spelling and the interesting and sometimes amusing attempts at phonetic reproduction. Keep in mind that before names and spellings were standardized, records reflected the individualistic whim of the particular recorder (often two different spellings of the same name within the same document). In addition, all records were handwritten, and sometimes deciphering a handwritten name in early records can be quite challenging! So expect to search under all possibilities of spelling (for both surnames and given names).

Given names are grouped together without regard for middle initials or middle names. Because middle names and/or initials are sometimes used, sometimes not used in various records, it seemed simplest to arrange entries as if the middle names or initials did not exist. Usually all variations of a given name are grouped together as though spelled one way: Jan, Johannes, John, etc. are all grouped as one (but also look under the other forms).

Sources and references are included with each "family" grouping, but may or may not include sources that are cited (or are obvious, such as baptismal records, etc.) within the narrative or listing itself.

As with any compiled genealogical record, researchers should regard this information as leads and clues, and should verify all data with independent research.

I welcome, and would be grateful for, any additions or corrections, especially with source citations.

Wanamaker, Wannamaker

The Palatine Dietrich Wannamaker (Wannemager; Johann Dietrich) family was from Leeheim, Germany.

Wannemacher

The name has occupational origins meaning winnowing fan, fanning wheel or basket maker. The name can also be traced to the word "wannen" from the stone for the pigs as troughs. The troughs were called "wannen" and the ending "macher" is equal to "maker." Later modernized to the variations of spellings found today — Wanamaker, Wannamaker, Wannemacher and others. Derivative of the Latin Vannus. The name comes from High German, Low German and Old High German dialect. The Latin word "Vannus" translated into German means "Futterschwinge" which is feeding trough in English.

We have found registered in the archives of nobility at Vienna, Austria. WILHELM in 1555, honored with the coat of arms for valor. Also PEITER in 1583 was granted the same honor.

The first Wannemachers to arrive in North America in 1710 were Johann Deitrich, settling first in Rockland county, NY, and Pieter (my ancestor), settling in Bergen county, NJ. Also Adam, Conrad, and sister Margaret came settling near Mahwah, NJ. Others came and settled in PA and SC.

During the American Revolution they fought on both sides of that war. After the war, during the great migration of United Empire Loyalists, arriving in upper Canada, were six Wannamaker brothers in about 1783, four of the brothers fought the war. One brother died in a prison camp in PA in 1780. My ancestor to Canada was Loyalist Harmanus Wannamaker, settling first in Prince Edward county, Ontario; then to Hastings county, Ontario.

Canadian Wanamakers/Wannemakers

Mostly descendats of Loyalists who relocated during or after the Revolution. Sherry Koshney Peterson (<mpeters@lis.ab.ca>) wrote in October 1996 (online) that her Wannamaker ancestors lived in Prince Edward county, Ontario. They lived near or at Ameliasburg or Adolphustown. All of the town names either intermingle or no longer exist. Prince Edward is an island province on the lake. Little Ireland and Hartsmere in Hastings are one and the same. The town name has changed many times. It was also called Rednersville and is now called McArthers Mills. It is very small and many many grave stones can be found there with many Wannamaker names on them.. They were all farmers and lumber jacks at all times in the northern woods of southern Ontario. The town today is near Bancroft in Hastings , near Renfrew county and the Quebec border. Belleville near Prince Edward has many Wannamakers spelled both ways (Wanamaker; Wannemaker).

Johann Dieterich Wannemacher came from Leeheim in Darmstad to the Ramapo Tract in 1709-1710 with the group of German Palatine immigrants. The group of Palatine families first lived near Newburgh, NY where they worked on a government naval stores project. When the project failed, the Palatines were left on their own. Johan Dietrich Wanamaker, one of the Palatine group, made arrangements with Peter Fauconnier to move to the Ramapo area (the Island section of Mahwah). On 3 April 1713 they rented a boat to bring them and their possessions down the river, arriving 8 April 1713. Family heads among the group included Johann Dietrich Wanamaker, Peter Wanamaker, Nicholas and Conrad Meissinger, Christian Straight, Adam Miller, Michael Storr, Heinrich Schmidt, and Conrad Linus.

Dietrich is found in records under various given names, including John Dietrich, Dietrich, Derick, Titus; and prob. Frederick, Theoderick.

His first wife, formerly of Lengfeld aus dem Waldeckschen, was a maid servant at Leeheim.

In some of the bp. at Hackensack Ref Ch, Dietrich's 2nd wife is recorded as Annetie Pieterse Koorman; and the father's name is given as "Titus."

A Bergen County Road Return dated about 9 June 1744 to alter a four rod road at "Ramepogh in the precinct of Saddle River over the land of Diedrich Wannemaker" was recorded at the request of Diedrich Wannemaker. Landmarks mentioned in the Return for the new road were: to begin by the Meeting house on the east side of the swamp upon the good ground for a Highway, line of Diedrich Wannemaker & Nicholas Muysinger.¹

Mary Appelbie (aka Leah? Van Neesher?)

b.

b. about 1757
buried 5 Dec 1853, Studholm Parish, Kings
Co., New Brunswick, Canada

Henry Wanamaker (also Wannamaker) was a Loyalist, who with other family members, served in Capt. Van Allen's Company, 4th Batt., New Jersey Volunteers.

In the NYC Ref Ch record of their marriage, he was a privaate Soldaat in Coll. Buskerk's Batt. and she was a widow.

Leah/Mary probably had at least one child (Peter Appleby?) with her first husband. A Peter Appleby received land grants in Hampton, N.B., as the son of a Loyalist who had fallen in battle (info. in his land petition).

John, Henry, Peter, and Richard Wannamaker's widow, Elizabeth, all sailed to New Brunswick in the Fall fleet of October 1783 on the ship Esther.

In the 1851 Canadian Census records, Leah is listed as age 94 (born 1757?), ancestry is "Dutch," and from "Pennsylvania." She was listed in the Census as "Old Loyalist."

John Wanamaker (July 11, 1838 – December 12, 1922) was a United States merchant, religious leader, civic and political figure, considered by some to be the father of modern advertising....In 1875 he purchased an abandoned railroad depot and converted it into a large store, called John Wanamaker & Co. "The Grand Depot". Wanamaker's is considered the first department store in Philadelphia....In 1889 he was appointed United States Postmaster General by President Benjamin Harrison....At his death his estate was estimated to be $100 million....John Wanamaker owned homes in Philadelphia, Cape May Point, NJ, Bay Head, NJ, New York, Florida, London, Paris, and Biarritz.²

He started out in life working in a brickyard, then as a clerk in a bookstore, and later in the employ of a clothier. After a vacation in the south, he returned to Philadelphia and he became a master brick mason. Finding this occupation too arduous, he used his savings to open [with his brother in law, Nathan Brown] the "Oak Hall" clothing store in April 1861 in Philadelphia.¹

Peter Wannemager and his [future] wife were in the 5th party sailing from Holland in 1709; they came to the Ramapo Tract between 1710-1714 with the group of German Palatine immigrants. The group of Palatine families first lived near Newburgh, NY where they worked on a government naval stores project. When the project failed, the Palatines were left on their own. Johan Dietrich Wanamaker, one of the Palatine group, made arrangements with Peter Fauconnier to move to the Ramapo area (the Island section of Mahwah, Bergen Co., NJ). On 3 April 1713 they rented a boat to bring them and their possessions down the river, arriving 8 April 1713. Family heads among the group included Johann Dietrich Wanamaker, Peter Wanamaker, Nicholas and Conrad Meissinger, Christian Straight, Adam Miller, Michael Storr, Heinrich Schmidt, and Conrad Linus.

In the Hackensack m. record they are "Pieter Wannemaker, y.m., b. Darmstadt, and Anna Clara Smidt, y.d., b. Virgerland, both living in Bergen Co."

John Peter Wanamaker paid back a loan from Daniel Worms in 1722. (Mahwah, p. 39)

---children of Peter Wanamaker & Elizabeth Hemion:

- Ann Mariah Wanamaker, b. 17 July 1828 Rockland Co., NY; d. 13 May 1880 Pilot Twp., Iowa Co., IA. She had a child, apparently born out of wedlock, Charles (Charlie) Wanamaker, who was b. in Rockland County NY on 7 Apr 1851 and who d. 11 Feb 1919 in Pilot township, Iowa. He is buried in Pilot Grove Union Cemetery.¹
- James Wanamaker (James Peter Wannamaker), b. 7 March 1831 Rockland Co., NY; d. 13 Oct 1914 White Lake, Aurora Co., SD; m. 25 Oct 1851 Ramapo, NY, Ellen Jane Cole, b. 11 Feb 1836 NJ; d. 15 Oct 1878; buried Pilot Grove Union Cemetery, Iowa Co., IA. James P. was the only member of the family to use two n's in the name - allegedly because of some conflict with his brothers.¹
He served in the Civil War; enlisted 31 Mar 1864 at Beaver Dam, WI., for 3 years at age 33. Co A, 17th Reg., Wis. Volunteer Inf., Certificate # 11726, Bdle 38 (#66 1952). At enlistment he was 5'10" tall, a farmer, with place of birth listed as Ramapo, NY. Discharged at Louisville, July 14, 1865, with rank of private.¹
They had twelve children: John, Anna Elizabeth, Ruth E., William Spencer, Silas Eugene, Cynthis, Ulysses Grant, Delila Ellen, Susan Jane, Theresa Agnes and twins Isaac and James. After Ellen's death, in 1889 (the year South Dakota became a state) James and remaining family moved to Aurora County SD as a farmer/homesteader.¹
- John W. Wanamaker (John P. Wanamaker), b. 28 Oct 1834 Rockland Co., NY; m. Rebecca Wilkes. In 1880 and 1895 he was living in Jersey City, Hudson County, NJ, in 1910 (age 75) in Ramapo, Ward 2, Rockland County, NY, and 1920 (age 85) in Elizabeth, 10th Ward, Union county, New Jersey. He had a daughter "Jennie."¹
- Stephen Wanamaker, b. abt. 1835 Rockland Co.
- Peter Wanamaker (Peter P. Wanamaker), b. about 1840 Rockland Co., NY; d. 3 Jan 1865 Savannah, GA, unmarried. In Wisconsin, he enlisted in the Army, joining Company A, 17th Wisconsin Infantry. The 17th Regiment was under General Sherman on the March to the Sea. Peter's company fought south from Memphis and took Atlanta. At Atlanta, Sherman weeded out the unhealthy troops, and took off for Savannah with essentially no supply trains, thus the bad publicity about pillaging the farms in the countryside. Peter P made it all the way to Savannah, but died of illness in that city after its fall to the Union. He was buried for a while in the Laurel Grove Cemetery in Savannah, but his and other remains were dug up and moved to the Beaufort National Cemetery in Beaufort, SC.¹
- George Wanamaker, b. 7 June 1841 Rockland Co., NY; d. 27 April 1909 Lauderdale Co., Mississippi. George enlisted in Company H, 33rd Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry Regiment, on 12 August 1862, and fought in the Siege of Vicksburg, Battles of Jackson (MS) and Nashville, and other engagements, and was discharged on 30 June 1865. According to an 1878 biography contained in A History of Morgan County, Illinois, Its Past and Present, Chicago, Donnelly, Loyd & Co. Publishers, George had been a distiller since 1873, and was married to Sardelia Payne (born 7 October 1843), of Jacksonville, Illinois, the daughter of a prominent local distiller. They had three children, Mary E., born 16 July 1869; Howard, born 18 May 1873; and Anna, born 12 October 1874. The 1900 federal census of Jacksonville lists Sardelia as a widow, head of household, living with her ca 19 year old daughter. The 1900 census of Alcorn County, Mississippi lists George living in Beat 4, Alcorn, with a 33 year old woman named "Lura", date of marriage 1898. George Wanamaker and Lura Read Wanamaker were buried in the New Hope Baptist Church cemetery, about five miles south of Meridian, Mississippi. An interesting footnote: The Civil War Pension Index, General Index Files 1861-1934, show an 1884 application for a widow's pension [Invalid] from Sardelia in Illinois, as well as a 1916 application from Laura Read Wanamaker in Mississippi, and a 1919 "Contest Widow" application from Sardelia Wanamaker of Illinois.¹
His second wife was Lura C. Skelton, b. 27 September 1866, widow of -?- Read, and dau. of William Green Skelton and Victoria Ezell. Lura d. 12 April 1951 and was buried with George off HWY 45, south of Meridian.¹
- Nelson Wanamaker, b. 1843 Rockland Co., NY; d. 2 Feb 1919 Anthon, IA; m. 1867, Marengo, IA, Catherine Endlich. Vol. E, pgs. 24-26, Bergen Co. Deeds: land of Derrick A. Wannamaker was being confiscated and sold to Benjamin Shotwell 24 Feb. 1787. (after Derrick A. had died) In the deed it says the land was confiscated because Derrick had joined the army of the King of Great Britain. This land was bought by Henry Wanamaker of Franklin Twp, 1 May 1787 (NJSA Bergen Co. Deeds, Vol. E., pgs. 41-44).³

A Derick Wandemaker appears on the Muster roll of Captain Peter Ruton's Co., Staten Island, March 1778 in the 4th Batt. of N.J. Volunteers commanded by Lieut. Col. Command. Abraham Buskirk. Also in that company were Henry, Peter, John, and Nicholas Wannamaker. Derick, now Richard Wanemaker, appears in March 1779, same company, same commanders, this time at "Hobuck". He appears also on Muster Roll, 7 July 1779, this time at Powles Hook. Henry, John, Peter and Nicholas are always on roll.³

Elizabeth m. (2) John Post, who had been a Sgt. in Van Buskirk's regiment.

In her American Loyalist Claim, Elizabeth, widow of Richard Wannamaker of Bergen County, deceased, claimed that he came within British lines in 1776 and joined the army; was taken prisoner in 1779 and as a result of hard usage in Philadelphia Gaol, died there in 1780. In the memorial, she is "now wife of John Post, 4 April 1786 Frederickton, N.B." The claim was a tract at Ramapah, Bergen County, cattle, etc. She cites as witnesses John and Peter Wannamaker of Frederickton.

In Proceedings of Loyalist Commissioners at St. Johns, 1786-7, Vol. III, pp 299, 202: Evidence on the Claim of Eliz Wannamaker, late of New Jersey. Claimt. Sworn: Says she came from New York in Sept., 1788, & has lived at Frederickton on the Back part of Mangerville ever since. She is a native of New Jersey. Her late husband, Richard Wannamaker was always a Loyal man & joined the B. Army in 1776. at N. York. He had never joined the rebels. He was taken at Paulus Hook & carried to Philadelphia gaol, where he died. He was then a soldier in Coll. VanBuskertrus' Regt. He left no will, nor any child. He left Br. and Sister in N. Jersey. Claimt. married to John Post, a Serif. in Coll. Baskerkis Regt. who came here in 1788, and is now settled in Mangerville. 100 acres in Bergen County, the Property of her late Husband. He had it from his father. There was a House & most of it, cleared. It is valued at £3 Cury. pr. acre. Says that the rebels seized this at her Husband's death. He had 6 Cows. 3 Horses, 5 or 6 Sheep, and some young Cattle. He was taken by the rebels. She has sent for a Certificate of Sale. Witness, James Servaniss, Sworn: He knew Richard Wannamaker. He was enlisted into the New Jersey Volunteers in 1776 by Wits. & served until taken in 1779 at Parks Hook and believes he died in gaol while Prisoner. He had a farm, was the oldest son of his Father. His Mother lived on this Farm. R. Wannamaker had Brs. & Sisters. He was the oldest. Believe that he had some little stock on the farm. Claimant is now married to one John Post, who resides in this Pray, nee [Province?]².
