

-- WESTERVELT. A-I --

The family groups represented in this collection may not be complete, because information was entered bit by bit as I found it or happened upon it; I have not done any systematic research on these families. Because they do not compose whole family genealogies, these listings are arranged differently from most genealogical records or histories. Each listing is a family group, and is arranged and filed alphabetically under the name of the head of the family.

Names are generally in alphabetical order (disregarding spelling variations and middle names), then in approx. chronological order. The first sorting is by surname (mixing together any and all spelling variations), then by given name, then by approximate birthdate (when known) in approximate chronological order. For easier reference, surnames in headings are grouped together under the most common spelling usage that evolved in this geographical location, regardless of individualistic spellings in the records themselves. Cross references are used in most cases where surname spellings substantially vary.

Within the quoted records, the individual spellings have been (mostly) retained because they sometimes provide clues (although in general—but with exceptions—they seem to largely reflect the record keeper's particular orthography and not always, at this early period, any special family preference). Those interested can see the variety and evolvement of a particular name's spelling and the interesting and sometimes amusing attempts at phonetic reproduction. Keep in mind that before names and spellings were standardized, records reflected the individualistic whim of the particular recorder (often two different spellings of the same name within the same document). In addition, all records were handwritten, and sometimes deciphering a handwritten name in early records can be quite challenging! So expect to search under all possibilities of spelling (for both surnames and given names).

Given names are grouped together without regard for middle initials or middle names. Because middle names and/or initials are sometimes used, sometimes not used in various records, it seemed simplest to arrange entries as if the middle names or initials did not exist. Usually all variations of a given name are grouped together as though spelled one way: Jan, Johannes, John, etc. are all grouped as one (but also look under the other forms).

Sources and references are included with each "family" grouping, but may or may not include sources that are cited (or are obvious, such as baptismal records, etc.) within the narrative or listing itself.

As with any compiled genealogical record, researchers should regard this information as leads and clues, and should verify all data with independent research.

I welcome, and would be grateful for, any additions or corrections, especially with source citations.

Abraham Williamson was a member of the Flatbush Dutch Church in 1677, where he took the oath of allegiance in 1687 at which time he reported that he had been in this country 25 years. He made his mark to documents.

Abraham Willemsen took the Oath of Allegiance 26-30 September 1687 Flatlands. Listed as being 25 years in America.

Abraham Westervelt is listed in the 1698 census of New Utrecht.

Abraham van Westervelt is granted a tavern license in 1711.

On 12 November 1705, Abram van Westerveldt sold a farm in New Utrecht to Anthony Holsaert (D02/002/001) of Flatlands. Probably the same farm Adrahm inherited in his mother's will (Westerveldt Papers.)

An indenture, dated 17 January 1729/30, between Abraham Willemse van Westervelt, and Margarita his wife, deeding all their property to Auken Voorhee, Jacobus Ammerman, and John Monfoort, Deacons of Flatlands Church. (This is the document in which they are given support by the Deacons for the rest of their lives in return for their property. It is because of this indenture that the letters relating to their parents were preserved).

In his will (recorded Book No. 2 of Conveyances, Brooklyn, Kings Co., NY), he wrote: 20 April 1697, Abram Williamse Van Westervelt, of New Utrecht, mentions wife Margarita Williamse. No children to date. Mother Dericke Williamse to be maintained during her life. Wife executrix. Signs by mark. Wit: Henry ffilkin, Justice, Agyas Vandyke who signs by mark, Katherine ffilkin. Recorded 25 April 1677 by Henry ffilkin, Reg.

He bought, in January 1820, from John and Bernard Ryers, the Mills at Arcola, Bergen County, NJ for $11,075. The property was described as "mills, saw mills, carding machines, water and water courses" and included four adjacent lots of land. It was Westervelt who first distinguished the mill with a coat of paint which bestowed the name Red Mills.¹

In The Bergen Farmer, issue of 17 Nov 1824, an advertisement read: "The subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public generally, that they have their fulling mill, now in complete order, at the Red Mill, Paramus; and are ready to receive all orders in their line of business. Cloths may be left at the Stores of Albert G. Doremus & Co., Hackensack; D.D. Demerest, Old Hackensack; John Engle, near the turnpike gate; and Ackerman & Kipp, Paterson Landing. From which places it will be taken away once a week, and returned dressed, with all possible dispatch. Edward B. Force, Garret A. Westervelt."

In the same issue, Force ran another advertisement: "Woolen Manufactory. The Subscriber takes this method of informing his friends and the public in general, that he has established a manufactory for the purpose of Carding, Spinning, Fulling, Dyeing, and Dressing, at the Red Mill belonging to Albert A. Westervelt at Paramus, where he intends to carry on the above business in all its various branches. Wool will be received and manufactured into all descriptions of Yarn, Cloths, Flannels, Satinets &c. at reduced prices. Farmers wool will be carded as usual. He manufactures and has constantly on hand an assortment of Satinets and Yarn which he will dispose of at reduced prices. Edward B. Force. Paramus, Red Mill, May 4, 1824. Also the above business will be carried on by the subscribers in its various branches at Abraham Van Rippers Mill, at Saddle River, between the Lutheran and Saddle River Churches — and will be superintended by experienced workmen. Edward B. Force. Abraham Van Riper. Saddle River, May 4, 1824."

Albert Westervelt's will was dated 12 Aug 1837, probated 28 June 1838. In it he mentioned land at Tenafly, house and lot on Spring Street, NYC, and farms and mill at Red Mill (Arcola). The Red Mills property was devised to his daughters Margaret and Lydia. His son-in-law, Edward Force operated the mill.

According to a note posted to Find-A-Grave website, Elizabeth was born 17 Apr 1776 to Angenietje Banta and an unknown Bogert father. She was christened as a Bogert, but evidently went by the name of Banta – according to published genealogies her mother died when she was only 4 yrs old so was probably raised by her Banta relations.

At the time of the 1850 Federal Census, Elizabeth was living in Washington Township with her son, Peter A. Westervelt, and his family.

In the (1) marriage record they are "Benjamin Westervelt, y.m., and Sara Durie, y.d., both born and living at Schraalenburgh."

They lived on County Road in present Cresskill, Bergen Co., NJ on a farm devised to Benjamin by his father's will made 9 Aug 1802. The homestead was replaced in 1808 by the large sandstone house now at #325 County Road.

Benjamin was a soldier in the Revolution (he was 16 years old when he enlisted) and was captured three times by the British. On one occasion he was imprisoned in the Sugar House in New York.

The first capture was in the vicinity of Englewood, when he was taken to New York and placed in the Sugar House Prison. Afterwards, having regained his liberty, he belonged to the "minute men" as did some of his brothers. Their rendezvous was known as "Wolf Den," midway between what is today Demarest and Cresskill. Having been betrayed by one Samuel Cole, the entire band was surprised by the British and taken to the Sugar House, except Jan, brother of Benjamin P., who made his escape by plunging into a stream. Those who survived were subsequently exchanged. Benjamin's third experience was at English Neighborhood, when he was captured by three Tories, one of whom was his old comrade, Samuel Cole, who offered to release him for a sum of money. At the moment Colonel Blanch and a few Americans came into sight. The Tories fired upon the patriots and wounded the Colonel. Seeling their weapons were emptied, he ran toward his friends and effected his escape. (Cole was sent to Halifax after the war, and remained there for seven years.)¹

Benjamin P. Westervelt was a Private, Minute Man in the Bergen County, NJ Militia; a Private in Captain James Christie's Company, Bergen County Regiment (Col. Theunis Dey, commanding), New Jersey Militia, summer of 1779, and served one month; Private, Capt. Abraham Haring's Company, Bergen County Regiment, fall of 1779, and served one month; Private, Capt. John Huyler's Company, Bergen County Regiment, spring of 1780, and served one month; enlisted June 1780 for six months as Private, Capt. Thomas Blanch's Company, Major Samuel Hayes' Battalion, New Jersey State Troops, on frontier service; Private, Capt. James Christie's Company, Bergen County Regiment, in 1781; taken prisoner 6 Sep 1781, and confined in Provost Jail and Sugar House Prison, New York; exchanged 18 Nov 1781.¹

Benjamin P. Westervelt drew a pension after the war.

He lived in Poughkeepsie, NY when he enlisted as a soldier in the Revolutionary War. In the spring of 1778 he moved to Orange (now Rockland) County, NY, where most of his children were born. He moved to New York City in 1790; in 1794 moved to Franklin, NJ (prob. Franklin Twp., Bergen Co.); then back to NYC in 1800. He moved to Bloomingdale (Butler²), NJ about 1812.

At the time of his enlistment in the Dutchess County, NY Militia, he was living in Poughkeepsie. He served under Captain Bernardus Swartout for fourteen days in June, 1777. In Sept. 1777 he was called to duty for a month under the same captain in Colonel Fryer's (Freer) Regiment. In the spring of 1778 he moved his family to Orange County, NY where most of his children were born. In April, 1778 he became a member of the "Classed" Militia in Orange County, serving under Captain Hendrick Tenne in Colonel A. "Hawk" Hay's Regiment. From May to December, 1778, he was called out every fourth week, and rendered one month and nineteen days of service. From March to December 1779, he served under the same officers for two months. From March to December 1780, he was called for two months and from May to October, 1782, he served one month, and twelve days.²

According to family tradition, times were tough during the war years. The hard work of running a farm was often left to the women and children. No one had any money, it was rarely used and seldom seen. People grew their own food, made their own clothes and what they couldn't grow or make they bartered for with their neighbors. One family story tells how Casparus's family peeled apples for weeks and dried them in the sun. On the trip to "the city" Casparus was crossing the North

River on an over loaded ferry and it capsized taking the family's produce and the wagon to the bottom of the river. The loss of the goods and the wagon was a personal tragedy. He saved himself by holding fast to the reins of the horse and it pulled him to safety. Things improved after the war, and in 1790 Casparus relocated to New York City. Nancy died on April 12, 1789; one wonders if that prompted the move.²

In a deed dated 4 Oct 1797 and recorded Bergen U:168, Casparus Westervelt and Jane conveyed to John Kark for £210 a house and lot beginning at the Road by a stone from thence north west as the fence now stands down to Hackensack River at low water mark, from thence northerly all along the Hackensack River until it comes to a small brook adjoining John Bogert's land and thence north east all along said brook until it comes to a road... 4 acres. This land may have been at Bogota.¹

On 1 May 1803 (recorded 26 March 1804, Bergen Co. R:423) Casparus Westervelt of Franklin Town, and Jane, his wife, conveyed to Ralph Romine of same place, for £450, 60 acres more or less being a certain tract on E side of the great Pond known by the name of Christian Pool in the Township of Franklin, beginning edge of water of said Pool near small bridge, and SW corner of Benjamin Romine; mentioned line of Francis Romine, now Garret Smith's; to line of Nicholas Romine. Signed by Casparus Westervelt, Jane Westervelt. Witnessed by Wm. Sutton, John Harris.³

On 20 November 1805 (recorded 21 November 1805, Bergen Co. W:171) Casparus Westervelt of the Township of Franklin, farmer, and Jane, his wife, conveyed to David Acker of the same place, for $1500, 60 acres more or less on E side of great pond known by name of Christian pool in the Township of Franklin; mentioned small bridge; corner Benjamin Romine's land whereon he now lives; line of Francis Romine, now Garret Smith's. Signed Casparus Westervelt, Jane Westervelt. Witnessed by Elias Folly, Garret Smith (his mark).³

A few years after his move to the farm at Bloomingdale, about 1815, Casparus tried his hand at raising silkworms. To feed them he planted dozens of mulberry trees along the ridge above the farm. The plan failed and the mulberry trees are gone, but the Old Westervelt Homestead remains at the corner of Valley Road and Grace Valley Road. It is the oldest home in Buter, NJ. (West Bloomingdale is now Butler)

Casparus applied for a veteran's pension on January 29, 1834. Only two years later, on January 18, 1836, between three and four o'clock in the morning, he passed away. His wife applied for a veteran's widow pension on September 8, 1858 and was awarded 168 acres of bounty land. Jane was 79 years old and living in New York City.²

For many years a white sandstone marked Casparus's grave in the old Bloomingdale Cemetery on Manning Avenue in Butler. As time passed the inscription became so faint that it could hardly be read. In 1937 his great-grandson George Riley, read an article in the New York Times about a project being conducted by the Works Progress Administration. In an effort to create work for veterans, the project was locating graves and mapping cemeteries. "Headstones were being provided at government expense for persons who had honorably served in the armed forces of the United States." Casparus got a new stone. The confusion about his date of birth was compounded, however, because the dates on the new stone are 1752-1836. A number of sources, including his own family Bible, give his age at death as 86 years, therefore, he was probably born in 1750.²

Some family heirlooms have survived. A musket Casparus used was owned by his son William Westervelt and a cherry wood fife is still owned by family members. Another family story tells how the fife, school copy book and other articles were saved by his grand-daughter, Susan Westervelt. According to the story, Casparus kept his prized possessions in a beautiful old red cedar chest. The chest was inherited by his son Silas. Harriet Kimble and Silas had nineteen children and they were all told never to disturb the chest or its contents. Sometime after the death of Silas, one of his sons, who had always admired the chest, took it and on the way home dumped the papers and other "junk" in an old grainery. When Susan discovered the chest was gone, she tracked her brother down. He wouldn't give up the chest, but she went to the grainery and recovered everything she could and carried it home. These pieces of family history exist today thanks to Susie. She also saved a large iron kettle and other utensils that accompanied the original Van Westervelt brothers on the ship "Hope" in 1662. Her son, George Riley, donated them to the Morris County NJ Historical Society in 1964. They were used in the making of the film, "Hard Winter" that is shown at the Morristown National Historical Park. According to family tradition, the kettle was in constant use until 1876 when the old homestead was split up and sold after the death of Silas. I got a shiver when I saw the kettle and thought about it being used by Lubbert Westervelt and that maybe it had even been to Brazil before it came here.²
